

Dixie Senator
Says Ike Could Aid Lawmakers

(By The Associated Press)
A Dixie Senator said today he thinks a "non-political" trip home by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would help the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in its study of U. S. aid to Europe—and he hopes the group will invite him soon.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) said he is not trying to entangle Eisenhower in a political situation.

Knows Situation
But, he said, the General's views on how much Congress should vote this year to aid Western Europe would be helpful because "he knows more about the situation than any other man."

President Truman is expected to ask for about $7,000,000,000 to continue foreign military and economic aid another year.

Senator Brewster (R-Me.), who is supporting Senator Taft of Ohio for the Republican Presidential nomination, said Eisenhower's testimony might help, but he didn't think his return at this time could be "divorced from the Presidential political picture."

Claims Conflict
Meanwhile conflicting claims of strength came from both Taft and Eisenhower backers.

Fifteen Eisenhower-for-President leaders from 11 southern states organized in Washington yesterday and said for the first time in history the South is ready to go Republican in November.

If Eisenhower wins the nomination, David S. Ingalls, a Taft campaign manager, issued a statement taking exception to one by Senator Lodge (R-Mass.), national director of the Eisenhower campaign, that the General's convention delegate strength is growing in the Midwest.

Ingalls said if there is any such upsurge "it has probably been the best kept secret of the campaign."

Eighteen Jump
As C47 Crashes

SYDNEY, Nova Scotia — (AP) — Eighteen men — 17 of them making their first leap from an airplane—safely bailed out of a U. S. Air Force transport early today, moments before it crashed in a blinding blizzard. Only two men were injured, neither seriously.

The plane, a C-47 enroute from Westover, Mass., to its base at Miramichi, New Brunswick, crashed in uninhabited territory along the Sydney River, on the outskirts of its industrial center. It had carried 14 passengers and a crew of four.

The pilot had made 20 attempts to land through the storm at Sydney airport, eight miles from the crash site, before he ordered everyone into parachutes.

Staff Sgt. L. A. Redinger, a Pennsylvanian, the only man aboard with previous jumping experience, fitted the "chutes" and gave each man quick instructions for the leap.

The escape door jammed for a moment, but broke loose when the men heaved against it the second time.

The jump was made at 3,000 feet.

When the last man leaped into the darkness, swirling snow and 50-mile-an-hour wind, the plane had only three minutes gas left.

Red Quiz In Detroit
May Get Tough With Rebellious Witnesses

By FELIX B. WOLD

DETROIT — (AP) — A second witness, who refused to cooperate in the House Un-American Activities Committee's probe of Michigan Communism, ran into trouble today as fellow auto workers refused to work with him.

Paul Henley, 50, was escorted from the Dodge engine plant of Chrysler Corporation after some 150 workers gathered around him. Plant protection police led him to safety.

Told To Get Out

Henley said the men, fellow members of the CIO United Auto Workers, gathered around him and "threatened me with physical violence unless I left the plant."

Henley, who declined to answer many questions yesterday during the subcommittee hearing, suffered another reverse yesterday

Voters OK New Charter At Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. — (AP) — Sault Ste. Marie has a new charter retaining the city manager-commission form of government it adopted in 1917. The Soo was one of the first cities in the state to adopt such type of government.

In an election yesterday, the voters approved the modernized charter 2 to 1. The vote was 1778 yes and 963 no out of a list of 8065 eligible voters.

The new charter will replace the five-man commission with a seven-man commission including the mayor. The new commission, which will be elected in April, will take over May 1.

Another basic change provides for the commission to appoint a lay board of review to go over assessments. Heretofore, the commission has been the board of review.

The charter also provides that the non-partisan city elections will be held at the same time as state elections. The city manager is authorized to make purchases up to $1,000 without advertising for bids. Under the old charter the limit was $500.

Conviction Of Man
Who Tried To Kill
Truman Is Upheld

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The U. S. Court of Appeals today unanimously upheld the conviction and death sentence of Oscar Collazo, Puerto Rican fanatic who tried to assassinate President Truman 16 months ago.

Collazo's Puerto Rican companion and a White House guard were killed during a furious gun battle fought on the steps of Blair House, temporary home of the President at the time of the storming on Nov. 1, 1950.

The 37-year-old Collazo was charged with murder although it was determined that the bullet that killed White House guard Leslie Coffelt came from the gun of Griselio Torresola, Collazo's companion.

Torresola was shot to death when Presidential guards opened fire on the Puerto Ricans. Collazo was wounded during the assault. So were two other White House guards.

Collazo still has two chances to escape the electric chair. The supreme court could reverse the conviction or Mr. Truman could commute the sentence.

ed another reverse yesterday when he was defeated 33-2 in voting for another term as a union steward. The vote was announced a few hours after his appearance as a reluctant committee witness.

Skips 37 Questions

Yesterday, another "reluctant" witness, John Cherveny, was escorted off his job at the American Metals Product Company after he too declined to cooperate with the House committee.

Cherveny told the committee Tuesday that it was made up of "witch-hunting Klu Klux Klansmen." He refused to answer 37 questions about his affiliations with or knowledge of Communist activities.

Meanwhile, the Communist inquiry pushed on today with hints that investigators might adopt a get-tough policy toward rebellious witnesses.

Representatives of the committee contended with no less than ten defiant witnesses in three rocky days of an examination of Communism in Detroit and Michigan.

Five persons, among them Elinor Maki, 42, suspended Detroit public art teacher, went on the stand yesterday only to dodge all queries pertaining to Communism.

U. S. Sends No More
Ground Troops To Europe This Year

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States will add no more Army divisions to its ground force in Europe this year but will send considerable more air power to help meet the immediate goals set up at the Lisbon session of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

In outlining the part the United States would have under the NATO master plan, Defense Secretary Lovett also tried to clear up confusion arising from the phrasing of an official summary of the meeting which he attended.

The summary issued at Lisbon produced the widespread impression that by the end of this year—only ten months hence—the Western European defense command of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would have 50 battle-ready divisions or about 20 more than previously expected. Lovett told a Pentagon news conference that this idea was wrong.

The plan, he said, is to have something more than half of that number fully combat-ready, their manpower and weapons complete, ready to go into action at an instant's notice. The others would be of the reserve system generally used in Europe—with major combat equipment, transportation and supply systems ready but without all the manpower needed for combat-readiness.

Lovett explained the European reserve system differs from the American: that in Europe men can be called to active duty quickly (sometimes within 48 hours), and that they often have their weapons and equipment stacked and ready in their homes.

Lovett made it plain the Defense Department has no intention now of asking Congress to approve sending one or more divisions to Europe.

Detective Nips
Fantastic Gold
Smuggling Plot

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — (AP) — A police detective who posed as a hardened ex-convict was credited today with exposing a fantastic plot to smuggle "a ton of Yaqui Indian gold" from Mexico in an armed bomber.

Detective Sergeant Ray Borders, who through a ruse won the confidence of the gang planing the deal and then sprung a trap that led to arrests, said it happened this way:

Three jewel robberies directed suspicion toward Robert Lord III, 33, an importer, because he was known to all the victims. His house was put under surveillance. A week ago officers arrested Glen Spaulding, 23, who has a police record, as he came out of Lord's house. Spaulding told the tale of gold.

Tough Guys Wanted

In jail, Spaulding agreed to introduce Borders to Lord, who he said was looking for "tough, rough guys" to do a job. Borders "joined" the gang and got details of the robberies. He was also told of plans to rob three diamond salesmen of $600,000 in gems for funds to finance the gold purchase deal. After learning all he could, he gave a prearranged signal that brought police.

Booked on suspicion of robbery along with Spaulding and Lord were Lee Moore, 24, and David Hutton, 23, the latter arrested with his wife in Las Vegas, Nev. Semor Rothenburg, 46, was accused of receiving stolen property, and Jerry Harrison, 23, accused of lending his car for one of the robberies.

From his cell Spaulding gave this version of the gold deal:

He was given $500 by an importer last December to investigate reports of a gold cache on an Indian reservation near Nogales, Mex. In Nogales he met a Yaqui chief and learned that 2,400 pounds of gold in 205-kilo bars was being held by the Yaqui tribe. An Indian showed him 10 bars of gold. He planned to spirit the gold out of Mexico with the importer but they lacked financing.

Jewels Net Only $300

So he went to Lord, son-in-law of William O. Jenkins, former

House TV Ban Political Trick

House TV Ban
Political Trick

LANSING, Mich. — (AP) — Owen J. Cleary, chairman of the Republican state central committee, says politics is behind the order banning television at the House Un-American Activities Committee hearing in Detroit.

Cleary fired off a telegram of protest yesterday to Democratic Speaker Sam Rayburn, who invoked the order. He called it "politically inspired and certainly discriminatory."

The GOP chairman told the House speaker "I believe that political forces in this area to whom you owe partisan obligation have influenced your decision."

"Frankly," Cleary added, "I regard it as alarming that Democrat leaders in this state and in this nation have not expressed themselves in opposition to your order, particularly since your party has constantly belittled the internal Communist menace. The attitude of your party obviously lends encouragement to Communists and their sympathizers."

"I am also deeply concerned at the silence of Walter Reuther and other leaders of the CIO who have boasted of their undying hatred of Communism and of their actions to purge it from their union."

Cleary condemned the TV ban as "insincere, cynical and inimical to the public interest."

House Passes Bill
To Cut Off Local
Liquor Tax Revenue

LANSING — (AP) — House approval yesterday was given a bill to take proceeds of the sales tax on package liquor away from schools and local governments.

On a strict party line vote of 55-31, the chamber passed a bill replacing the sales tax on bottle liquor with a three per cent "service and handling charge."

This will realize an additional $3,000,000 annually for the state, Republican sponsors said.

Split By Lobby

The House Republican caucus, which controls the chamber, approved a plan to care for those unemployed by conversion to defense contracts by extending unemployment compensation from 20 to 26 weeks.

Caught between heavy rival lobbying, the Senate split 13-13 on a bill to "recognize" the Fraternal Order of Police. This is four votes short of passage.

The law would forbid city governments to dismiss employees for membership in an organization unless it was banned by action of a city council.

The Detroit common council opposed the bill, supporting its long objection to its police officers joining a secret lodge.

For Reckless Drivers
Passed and sent to the House was a bill fixing reckless driving penalties for violations of no-passing zones on hills and curves.

The House passed unanimously a bill to forbid the sale of dangerously inflammable fibers and empower the state fire marshal to impound clothing made from them. The measure grew out of the appearance of inflammable sweat-shirts throughout the state last month.

Legislation to permit villages to turn over surplus money to townships for general fund and road purposes passed the House 65-6.

The absence of polio here is counter to an unusually high winter incidence in Texas generally which has led Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, to warn that the state may have a record polio year.

Dr. Will Miller, acting director of the Corsicana-Navarro health unit, who alone "shot" more than 200 patients the first day of the experiment, said people in other counties have inquired whether free rabies shots will be given here again this year.

Dr. Miller said the program at Frost last year cost about $1,500 but will be offered again this year "if funds are available and the people are willing." The expense of the 1951 tests was absorbed by Dr. Miller and others.

New Pact Aimed
At Red Menace
From The North

By ROBERT EUNSON

TOKYO — (AP) — American troops will remain in Japan indefinitely under terms of an agreement signed by the two countries today. And while the document doesn't say so, there was no doubt here that it is aimed at Russia's threat of invasion from the north.

The executive treaty signed today does not have to be ratified by the United States Senate or the Japanese Diet.

It is part of the security pact, already ratified by Japan and now up for ratification in Washington.

No Mention of War

It covers "conditions which shall govern" American forces in this country until the Japanese feel they are able to defend themselves.

Nowhere is there a mention of the United Nations or the Korean war.

The administrative agreement signed today takes effect when the treaty of San Francisco finally is ratified.

That will be when the sixth member of the Far Eastern Commission signs the peace treaty.

The best guess for that date is March 31.

By SAM SUMMERLIN

TOKYO — (AP) — Diplomats signed an agreement today providing that American troops will stay in Japan indefinitely on just about the same terms as exist now.

No limit was set on the size or composition of U. S. post-occupation forces. No time limit was set on the length of their stay.

Step Toward Peace

The agreement implements the U. S.-Japan security pact signed at San Francisco last September. It will become effective automatically when the peace treaty is ratified.

Beautiful Town
Ceases To Exist

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

AUGUSTA, Ga. — (AP) — This weekend the town of Ellenton ceases to exist—a place of beautiful homes, more than a century old, a historic early American monument.

It had to go to make part of the room for the huge H-bomb plant that covers 315 square miles of South Carolina across the Savannah river near here.

A year and three months ago notice was given, and March 1 is the deadline when every person, business, interest and every home has to be gone. What is left probably has to be destroyed.

All Ellenton's 600 people are gone and 80 of their 150 houses. They are among 6,000 persons similarly moved from the vast military area.

Ellenton's story is typical of them all. Even though this is probably the most kindly conducted of all dictated evacuations, and though many Ellentonians and others have reaped rich financial rewards, the story is sad. There is bitterness in many hearts today.

"They looked at 114 sites before they came here for H-bombs. Why did this have to happen to me?" is a typical reaction.

No Polio After Rabies
Shots In Texas Town

FROST, Tex. — (AP) — Seven months ago nearly 400 persons in this small Texas town took five rabies shots each in an experiment to determine whether this would prevent polio.

Since that time no polio case has been reported in Frost. Seven months ago seven of Navarro county's 12 polio cases were in the Frost area.

People Enthusiastic
Reporting this today, doctors who made the experiment were careful not to claim the experiment had yet proved anything.

Dr. Herbert E. Hipps of Waco first advanced the idea, saying only that "people who have received rabies shots generally don't have polio."

Dr. Hipps said:

"We'll have more definite information on its success after about six months. By September we should know if our tests helped."

Frost has a history which usually results in polio cases during August and September. If none occur this year we can be led to believe the experiment was worthwhile."

Despite Dr. Hipps' caution, people in the Frost area are enthusiastic.

Red Cross Drive To Open March 1

The Delta County Chapter, American Red Cross, will join with the 1952 national Red Cross fund campaign in opening its drive on Saturday, March 1, it was announced today by Dr. F. C. Anderson, chapter chairman and drive coordinator.

The Delta county goal for 1952 is $16,000.

"To help our neighbors, to help our men in service, to help the victims of catastrophe—this is the work of the American Red Cross when disaster strikes," Dr. Anderson said. "The call for help must be answered this year as in the past long record of Red Cross service."

Organization of the campaign is now under way. Among the volunteers who will join in the drive effort are the following:

Sheriff William E. Miron, township chairman; Gordon Kelley, Gladstone city chairman; Elmer Olson, Escanaba city chairman; and Gust Asp, industrial solicitation committee chairman.

On March 3 contributions will be solicited in the business district of Escanaba; and on March 8 a house-to-house canvass will be conducted.

Completion of the organizational set up is expected soon with the announcement of the names of those who will solicit the city's residential areas.

Rep. Erlandsen Seeks State Building Here

A bill to revive the Escanaba state office building project, under study by Michigan legislative committees for the past two years, has been introduced by Rep. Einar E. Erlandsen of Escanaba and referred to the House committee on state affairs.

House Bill No. 375 would: Permit the acceptance of a bequest of $100,000 from the estate of the late Catherine Bonifas and gifts of land and moneys from other sources for the construction of a state office building in Escanaba; declare the intent of the legislature to construct the building; and authorize the state administrative board to enter into agreements for financing and construction.

By Private Money

Rep. Erlandsen said his bill may bring action because it does not require state outlay of money for construction. The state has a deficit and would have to borrow to finance the project.

On a recent visit to Escanaba the Delta county representative said the bill authorizes the state administrative board to enter into leases, contracts and agreements with a local public building corporation which would finance construction of the proposed state office building.

No money would be borrowed on behalf of the state, but the state through a lease-purchase contract with the building corporation would annually pay for the office space provided the state in the building. Over a period of years the state would acquire ownership of the property.

Site Is Available

If the bill is adopted it would not require further action by the legislature to approve the lease or contract.

The bill would authorize the state to accept the gift of $100,000 from the late Mrs. Bonifas toward the construction of the office building; and a site from the 300 block, Ludington street.

Figures assembled by the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce for a legislative study committee of the project reveal that eight state agencies in Escanaba cost $1,511 monthly for rentals, heat, janitor service and other housing costs. The yearly total is $18,132.

Report Is Needed

Rep. Erlandsen in commenting on the proposed Escanaba project said:

"In the past two years there have been two committees visiting Escanaba on this state office building proposition. To date there has not appeared for the legislature a report on last year's visit. This report is necessary for the

Cape Cod Buried Under Snowdrifts

BOSTON — (AP) — The worst storm in possibly 50 years today left Cape Cod buried beneath snow drifts as high as 12 feet, isolated entire communities and stranded an uncounted number of motorists.

Snowfall as high as 20 inches was piled into virtually impenetrable drifts by a northeast wind that reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour at times.

In many cases town-owned snow-removing equipment proved to be so inadequate against the heavy odds that town officials had to appeal to the state and the Army for heavier-duty apparatus.

At least five deaths were recorded up to early today as a result of the northeast. Two others, 'teen-aged boys, were missing at East Sandwich hours after they went hunting in some marshland.

Nantucket Island, with a winter population of approximately 3,500, had no contact with the world outside except through a radio on a nearby Coast Guard patrol boat.

EASING PAIN

CHESTER, Ill. — (AP) — City councilmen, sympathizing with harassed Saturday shoppers, have a plan in the works to set up three places in the town where shoppers may pay parking fines conveniently.

A mosquito color reaction test showed that white and yellow drew fewest bites, while black material attracted twice as many insects.

Losses May Spell End Of Local Bus Service

Escanaba may be without local bus service of any kind in the near future.

This is the prospect today as George Hore, of Calumet, owner of the Delta Transit Company which operates the city buses, announced that his company must have financial help or better support of some kind if it is to stay in business here.

"We are faced with the necessity of either giving up our franchise and discontinuing service or selling the business to some one else," Hore said. The owner and his son, Fred, are the fourth party to operate the local bus service.

No Alcoholic Candy For Swiss Children

BERN, Switzerland—(AP)—The Swiss government's nutrition commission has published a nationwide appeal against the sale of liquor-filled candy to children of school age.

The free sale of chocolates filled with cognac, cherry brandy or kirsch to children caused them to be "over-excited" at play and in traffic, led to undue fatigue in class and introduced them to the evils of alcohol at an early age, the commission said.

The commission, appealed to parents, teachers and shopkeepers to protect children from alcoholic candy and guide them towards "the true sources of strength and health."

Finds Relatives' Ancient Document

BAD GOESBERG, Germany—(AP)—Theodor Liedstedt got out of a refugee camp in 1949 and rented a room of his own together with some second-hand furniture, from local welfare authorities. Included was a desk which looked like an antique.

Recently he bought a second-hand book that described secret drawers master craftsmen once built in desks and cabinets. Liedstedt studied his desk and found a secret drawer that contained a document dated in 1813. It certified that a Theodor Liedstedt and his wife gave their wedding rings for their Prussian fatherland, then at war with Napoleon.

The document was issued at Glogau, an East German town which Theodor Liedstedt's namesake and great-grand-nephew had fled in 1945.

Dog Not Rabid, State Reports

A dog that bit two Escanaba children and was then killed by its owner was not rabid, the Michigan Department of Health today reported from its Lansing laboratory.

W. J. Benzie, Delta-Menominee health district sanitarian, said the state laboratory reported no evidence of rabies after an examination of the dog's brain. The dog's head was sent to Lansing on Saturday by plane.

On Thursday last week the dog, owned by Gordon Honeywell of 1901 Fifth Ave. N., bit Pat Duncan, eight, of 616 North 19th St., and on Friday it bit Gary Forvilly of 625 North 18th St.

Honeywell shot the dog Friday night. Health officers pointed out that in dog bite cases the dog owner should follow police order and keep the dog confined for a period of 10 days to determine if the animal is afflicted with rabies.

Don Cook, Top Boss Of SEC, Climaxes Horatio Alger Story

By MARTIN S. HAYDEN

WASHINGTON—A busy young specialist in doing two men's work has become the nation's top securities regulator and promises some changes in the world of stocks and bonds.

President Truman has named 42-year-old Commissioner Donald C. Cook of Escanaba, Michigan, to succeed Harry A. McDonald of Detroit as chairman of the Securities & Exchange Commission.

The promotion climaxes an Horatio Alger story in a Washington setting for Cook who arrived here in 1935 as one of the 15 winners among 6,000 civil service examination contestants for a $2,000 SEC job. He now becomes the first chairman to rise from the bottom of the agency professional staff.

Enroute up Cook has taken some detours: He served as executive assistant to the attorney general and as the director of alien property and spent two years in private law practice. In addition to his regular government jobs, he has served as the general counsel, first for five subcommittees of the House Naval Affairs committee which were checking on admirals' "mistakes" during World War II, and, more recently, for the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee which is chasing loose spenders in the current rearmament effort.

Studied At Night

Simultaneously, Cook found time to pick up a Maryland certified public accountant's rating, collected a juris doctor degree by finishing near the top of his George Washington University law class and added a master of laws diploma with some more night school.

Looking down from the top of the SEC today, Cook opined that SEC regulation should be both lessened and tightened, and complained that "Too many people still do not understand what this agency is here for."

The new chairman believes "Some of the statutory interpretations under the SEC have been too restrictive and should be made more workable." As an example,

"horrible examples" to show Congress and the White House where laws and administrative practices should be changed. He first showed it in 1943 when, while still holding his post as assistant director of the SEC public utilities division, he agreed to take on "for fun" the counsel's job for the naval subcommittees headed by the then Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson (Dem.) of Texas.

In a matter of weeks Cook was handing his chairman "ammunition" in the form of proven waste of money and such manpower throw-aways as the assignment of trained radio engineers as bed pan flushers in Naval hospitals. He climaxed the performance with a 150 page report which showed why a multi-million-dollar contract by which the Navy had leased its Elk Hills oil reserve to the Standard Oil Company of California should be cancelled. That report's recommendation that the Naval Affairs Committee be set up as a formal "watchdog" to approve all future Naval land disposal survived the criticism of Franklin Roosevelt that it was a violation of constitutional separation of presidential and congressional powers and became the prototype for a similar arrangement by which Congress later controlled Marshall Plan expenditures.

Now, as part of his new duties, Cook would better the public's understanding of the SEC's job.

For Better Understanding

"Our function," he said, "has never been understood. We have never been able to get across the idea that the SEC has no power to prevent the sale of bad securities. Our only job is to require that those who want to sell stock to the public must first fully and honestly disclose, in language the public can understand, just what is behind the stock issue he is promoting. Once we make those disclosures, statements available to the public, then investors are on their own."

Cook goes farther and says he would resist any effort to make the SEC the judge with power to say what issues should go to the public and which should be banned from the market as worthless.

"Such a plan," he said, "would cut the heart out of our free enterprise system. Under such a plan both Thomas Edison and Henry Ford would probably have been turned down when they sought capital. Where, in their day or now could you find five men with the vision and the x-ray eyes to know Ford and Edison would succeed, and make investors rich, while most of their competitors failed?"

A reporter wanted to know whether Cook, as SEC chairman and "re-educator" of the public, would still have time to continue as counsel for Senator Lyndon Johnson's preparedness subcommittee.

"I hope so," was Cook's reply. "Maybe it's silly but I've been working ever since I started peddling The Escanaba Press when I was eight. It's the only hobby I have, and I like it."

Federal Government's Rule For Labor Surplus Area Senseless

IRON MOUNTAIN'S difficulties in its efforts to be declared a labor surplus area provide an insight in the inconsistencies of a bureaucracy.

Under federal regulations, when an area is declared a labor surplus district, it is possible for the government to award defense contracts in that area without the necessity of competitive bidding. The idea, of course, is to provide employment in labor surplus areas whenever it is possible to do so by means of federal contracts.

The government, however, has arbitrarily ruled that only an area containing a city of at least 50,000 population can be classified as a labor surplus area.

Iron Mountain, of course, fails to qualify because of this rule. Iron Mountain being a city of about 15,000 instead of 50,000. Actually, Iron Mountain's unemployment problem is more serious than many areas already designated as labor surplus areas.

A total of 3500 men, formerly employed by the Ford Motor Company in Iron Mountain, are jobless. They possess the know-how to build the wood trailers for which an Army contract is being sought. But until the red tape of bureaucracy unwinds itself, Iron Mountain's difficulties in securing the federal contract are considerable.

For some unexplained reason, the federal government apparently feels that the hunger of an unemployed person and his family in a small town is less acute than a hunger of a jobless man in a large city.

Faith Is Our Greatest Need

DEFENSIVE action alone ultimately winds up in defeat. This is common knowledge, yet our prevalent political philosophy has been defensive. For example, our people are against Communism but most of us fail to realize that merely being against it is meaningless. To win, you have got to be for something.

More people who know what they are for rather than what they are against is the greatest need of the moment—people who do not weigh the value of personal liberty in terms of television sets, price indexes, so-called social gains and the animal comforts politicians love to harp on as vote getting devices.

The bitter truth is that we are losing our personal liberty at home just as we have been losing the contest with world Communism because we haven't the guts to be for something. We have been losing because we have not had faith in the founding principle of our own government—independence. We have tolerated the development of a bureaucracy which has grown into a colossus that takes a third of all paychecks. We have accepted lying down the mouthings of power-hungry politicians who are spending our depreciated currency at the rate of $85,000,000,000 annually. We have been taught to be cynical toward productive industry and thrift and property rights of private citizens. From this point it can be but a short step to political and religious oppression.

The current budget of the Federal government—over $85,000,000,000—recently inspired a blistering editorial by Life Magazine: "... Congress had damn well better pass some self-reforming acts. ... Otherwise the Federal budget will remain the incomprehensible sign of America's creeping retreat from political self-control to tyranny through ignorance."

Only an exhibition of faith in independence and a hatred of government oppression and excessive taxation can stem the growth of internal bureaucracy and the soul destroying march of world Communism, and perpetuate the United States we have known.

No Monument For Senator Vandenberg

THE late Senator Vandenberg, we believe, would have approved the action of the Michigan Senate Tuesday in defeating a proposal for a $50,000 monument to the senator's memory.

The state treasury is in extremely unfavorable circumstances at the present time. The state owes a tribute to Senator Vandenberg for his many years of conscientious service to his country but we doubt that Mr. Vandenberg would have wanted the state to buy an expensive monument at a time when the state is in such precarious financial circumstances.

For that matter, we question the advisability of building a monument at all in memory of the distinguished senator, whether the state is flush or broke. A memorial, yes—but not a monument. There is a decided difference.

A memorial can be something useful—a building, a playground, an art center, a library, or even a highway. A monument is worth nothing except its sentimental attachment.

Eventually, the state undoubtedly will pay fitting tribute to Senator Vandenberg. We hope that it is accomplished by means of a memorial but not a monument.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The secret drive of corn-belt livestock feeders to kill all price controls has recalled the story told by sage Chief Justice Fred Vinson about Sid Richardson, the big Texas oil and cattle man, who was riding with Speaker Sam Rayburn and Bob Anderson, quiet, efficient manager of the giant Waggoner ranch in Texas.

Someone asked Anderson how much he had got for his calves, and he replied 41 cents. Since the Waggoner ranch had produced about 7,500 calves, the deal involved over a million dollars.

"Forty-one cents!" exclaimed Sam Rayburn. "Who would be fool enough to pay that much?"

Anderson replied that the buyer was Howell Smith.

"What!" roared Sid Richardson. "He's my partner and brother-in-law! You mean to say that he paid 41 cents a pound for calves?"

CHIEF JUSTICE WEEPS

Later the chief justice was attending a Texas luncheon in the office of Senate Secretary Les Biffle and was called upon to make a few remarks. He told the story about Sid Richardson and the price of calves, then added:

"Over there in the back of the room I see my old friend Joe Montagu." The chief justice referred to the Washington lobbyist of the Texas and Southwest Cattle Growers Association.

"Joe used to come around to see me when I was economic stabilizer in World War II, entrusted with keeping prices down," continued the chief justice, "and Joe used to keep on my shoulder. He was against any ceiling price on cattle then, and I see he's still around, fighting OPS and trying to protect the price of cattle."

"I feel mighty sorry for Joe," continued Vinson. "Sometimes I just feel like weeping for him. I remember, during the war, we put a ceiling price of 12 cents a pound on beef and kept it there. Now it's up to around 41 cents, yet Joe gets mighty unhappy when OPS calls for a rollback of only about three cents."

"Yes, I just feel like weeping for Joe and the cattlemen."

The chief justice told the story, as he always does, with such humor that not even Joe Montagu could take offense. But the irony was not lost on the assembled legislators who have to pass on price controls.

Note—Bob Anderson, manager of the Waggoner ranch, has kept strictly aloof from any price-control lobbying. Though managing the second biggest ranch in the U. S. A., he has been a sincere and liberal defender of his fellow men, has opposed reactionary interests in Texas.

IDEAS—NOT GUNS

It still isn't too late to win the "Cold War of Ideas" with Russia, GOP Congressman O. K. Armstrong of Missouri told the conference on psychological strategy last week. But he warned that time is running out.

"The free world is losing the psychological struggle," declared Armstrong. "The enslaved peoples are losing hope, and the neutral peoples are losing faith."

The Missourian branded as "false" the assumption by many that the "only way to overthrow Bolshevism is by another major war—a world-wide atomic war that would wreck civilization irretrievably." The contrary is true, he said, because we would drain our resources and manpower until we became so weak that no armaments could protect us.

"Do you not see that this is a policy of fear, of hopelessness, of reliance upon weapons that will neither prevent nor win future wars?" asked Armstrong. "Let us realize this great and fundamental truth: The struggle against Communism is the struggle for the minds and hearts of mankind. It cannot be won by guns and bombs alone."

"The strongest weapon we hold in our hands is truth alone. Our strongest and most valuable asset in the crusade to overthrow Communism, without war, is the burning desire of captive peoples for freedom."

"Let us then move boldly to prevent further aggression and war by a crusade to liberate the masses enslaved by Communism," continued the Missourian. "Let us recognize that this world cannot exist half slave and half free. Our primary weapons will not be guns, but ideas."

Note—Thousands of American high school students are now joining in local competitions to write the best messages to Moscow in the war of ideas, not guns. The prize-winning messages will be broadcast behind the Iron Curtain by the Voice of America. Messages should be about 150 words long. Consult local high school officials regarding your participation.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Batavia, Java—A thundering naval engagement between United Nations and Japanese warships erupted into what looked like the first major clash of an attempted Japanese invasion of this last Allied bastion in The Netherlands Indies.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—The tie treating plant of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway was to resume operations in a few days after being closed for several months, it was announced by Superintendent H. L. Holderman who estimated that the return to work would result in a $18,000 payroll going to the depression-hit workers.

Chicago—Al Capone's 11-year sentence for income tax evasion was sustained by the United States circuit court of appeals, thus bringing nearer a prison sentence for the world's most notorious gangster, although it was on a bookkeeping charge of tax evasion rather than any of the higher crimes charged to his regime of violence and murder.

Foam Rubber Made Like A Cake Is Keeping Industry On The Bounce

By RICHARD KLEINER

NEA Staff Correspondent

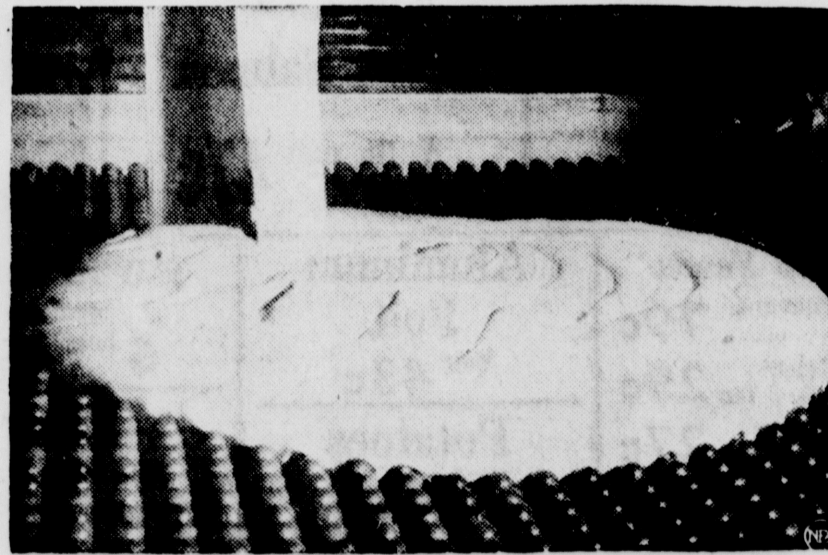

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Look around you. Chances are you'll see something that is at least partly made out of foam rubber. If not, it will be in a year or so. Because industry is foaming at the mouth with excitement about the fabulous rubber product, and is using more of it every day.

"This relatively new fruit of rubber research," says A. L. Freedlander, president of the Dayton Rubber Co., "has now given new employment to thousands, helped stimulate hundreds of new businesses, and benefited consumers with scores of fresh, ingenious products that make life easier—and softer."

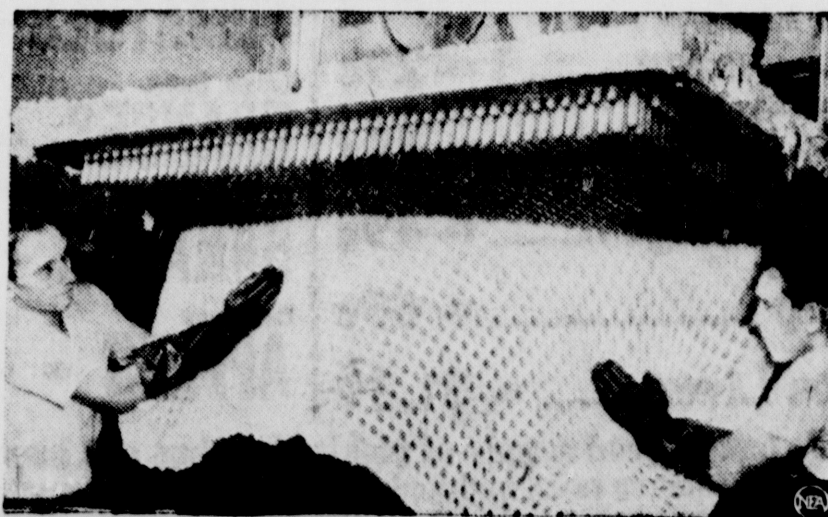

In the furniture and bedding industries, the largest users of the bouncy stuff, the trend is all foam. "Ninety per cent of everything on the floor has some foam rubber in it," said the owner of the Nassau Hi-Way Furniture Store, in Paramus, N. Y., one of New York's big suburban distributors. "The customers demand it."

At New York's bustling Furniture Exchange, a building which houses the wholesale showrooms of most of the nation's manufacturers, an official said foam rubber is "pretty near standard equipment." He said the product started as a luxury item, but now it's included in the low price brackets—even in $20 chairs.

The pillow department in Gimbel's department store in New York reports that 99 per cent of all pillows sold are foam rubber. This figure is colored somewhat by the fact that the government has frozen all down and feathers, and the only pillows they sell, besides foam, are made from reprocessed feathers.

FROTHY FOAM RUBBER is poured into mattress mold (above) at U. S. Rubber Co.'s Mishawaka, Ind., plant. It looks like whipped cream then, but when the mattress is cured it changes to soft, resilient rubber. The finished product is stripped off (below).

Transportation is a gigantic consumer of foam. It's used in buses, trains, planes and passenger cars. Most truck seats and backs are foam upholstered. So are crash pads around the cockpits of fighter planes.

The material is so versatile that it has hundreds of unique applications. It's being used for corn pads, paratrooper's shoes, lining the wards of mental hospitals, powder puffs, banana crate packing, circus animal decorations, padding the outfield fences of baseball fields, church pew kneelers, insides of musical instrument cases—and fashions.

Foam rubber is the generic term for this wonder product. Actually, you buy it by different names, the trade names of the manufacturers. These all contain the syllable "foam"—there is "Koolfoam" and "Pillofoam" and "Foamex," "Mirafoam," "Wonderfoam," "Airfoam," "Restfoam," "Texfoam," and "U. S. Koylon Foam."

Foam rubber can be made of both natural and synthetic rubber, although the natural latex is still the biggest source. Synthetic foam is newer and does offer the possibility of much lower costs, but mass production is yet to come in this field.

In the industry they're very touchy about confusing foam with old-fashioned sponge rubber. Foam is softer than sponge, although there is still a good many uses for sponge rubber in mops and that type product. The two differ in the method of manufacture.

Foam, which was discovered in 1931, is made like you make an angel food cake, more or less. In both cases, the end product becomes light and frothy because air bubbles are introduced by serious whipping.

Chemicals are first added to the pure rubber. Each manufacturer jealously guards his formula at this stage—Dayton adds 31 ingredients—because the chemicals determine the ultimate qualities of the foam. Then this rubber-chemical batter is whipped in industry's answer to the egg-beater until it looks like whipped cream.

The resultant airy mixture is poured into molds or spread in long sheets. It's then cured, washed, dried and sold. The curing is again a secret process.

What comes out is a product that has somewhere around 250,000 air cells to the cubic inch. This makes it light, clean, resilient, cool. Other properties it has picked up along the way make it odorless, durable, easy to shape, quiet and moth- and vermin-proof. The only thing it hasn't got is economy, but the foam fanciers insist it lasts so long that it is inexpensive in the long run, and, anyway, the price is coming down fast.

As of Jan. 1, 1951, most of the restrictions for use of rubber in civilian items—imposed because of the emergency—were lifted. This has given foam a tremendous bounce.

The newest use of foam rubber is for home-made upholstery, by wives and other handy people around the house. You can now buy foam by the yard, cut it with a pair of scissors to fit a beat-up chair, then tack or cement it down. Or you can do what industrial upholsterers often do—make a "topper" about an inch thick and apply it over the usual upholstery.

Hospitals are also converting to foam in a big way. Foam mattresses have been found very beneficial to patients with back injuries. And, although no research has been done on it, some hospital officials make the unofficial statement that foam mattresses seem to have an anti-bed-sore tendency.

Foam's great advance has been since World War II, although trains and buses used it for years before the War. But in the post-war years, American rubber companies have spent more than $100,000,000 on foam research, product improvement, plant expansion and merchandising. This has led some of the companies to specialize. U. S. Rubber Co., while it makes its Koylon Foam in many forms, stresses its mattresses, and Dayton's Koolfoam pillows are that company's pride and joy.

In upholstery, the foam fling has been most spectacular. Two years ago, only 28 manufacturers displayed foam upholstered products at Chicago's Furniture Mart. Last year, there were almost 300. About the only fault to foam rubber is that it spoils pillow fights. There are no feathers to mess up the joint.

In the breeding season of wild ducks, mallard drakes dogfight in the air for a female's favor. Among the dignified canvasbacks, however, the competing males stage a chest-to-chest pushing contest on the water, each swimming as hard as he can move his webbed feet. When one begins to slip backward, his contest is lost, and he must turn and dive before his opponent seizes him by the back of the neck.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE REUNION—In Escanaba the other evening I met a young man I had not seen for a dozen years—a smooth, cheeked blond youth called "Junior" by his brother, Sheriff Edward Reindl of Menominee.

Junior's name is John and I had remembered him for his wavy golden hair and his blue eyes that could become cold and penetratingly sharp. Even as a youngster he liked to work with his brother on criminal cases and Sheriff Ed made him a deputy.

Well, when we met Junior the other evening in Escanaba he had more meat on his bones, the blond hair was still wavy but a little thinner—and the blue eyes were as alternately friendly and penetrating as ever.

And he was filling a new role, that of speaker to a Rotary club ladies' night meeting at the House of Ludington. It was the first time he had spoken outside Menominee county, he said.

UNDERCOVER AGENT—The inclination to meet adventure more than half way took Junior from Menominee to an FBI training school in Washington, D. C., back in 1938.

The training was rigorous but Junior thrived on it. There was an undercurrent of excitement in the very air of Washington. Hitler was disturbing the peace of the world, there was spy talk and espionage work—and the FBI was in the thick of its protective program to ward off sabotage.

The bombing of Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941, plunged the United States into World War II.

Junior Reindl was on the FBI "fighting front" within the United States. He was to become an undercover agent, living with Nazi saboteurs, daily risking his life in a work that called for watchful courage each minute of the day and night.

AS A SPEAKER—There is a contagious sense of adventure in hearing Junior Reindl talk. He gives you details, sketches the broad sweep of events, injects a relieving humor into the drama of his story.

To hide the identity of his agents the FBI set up a plush mortuary in Newark, N. J., gave Reindl a short course in undertaking and put him in charge of the business. The funeral home did very well "in fact our outfit put one competitor out of business."

The Purvis case was broken by the FBI and Reindl was assigned by J. Edgar Hoover to another and perhaps more dangerous job.

THEY NEVER KNEW—As undercover agent Reindl spent 23 months with German saboteurs in their hideout in Newark.

He lived and drank and ate and slept with them. They thought he was a "dumb kid" and even defended him as such when they were brought to trial, sentenced to 40 to 60 years in prison, to be followed by deportation.

The Gestapo chief asked Reindl to sleep with him.

"He told me he could not hear very well and he wanted to know if anybody tried to get in the house. 'You never know what the FBI will try to do,' he told me."

THE UNTOLD STORY—Out of the Nazi saboteur headquarters came information that sent invading German agents to their death and resident agents to prison.

Reindl's identity with the case was concealed for years. Only now does he feel free to talk about it in communities near his home. National magazines sought his story and were denied. The less publicity the better. Even now he is deliberately vague on certain points.

While with the FBI he met, through a girl FBI agent, the young woman who is now his wife. They have two children and live at Menominee where Reindl is secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

CART BEFORE THE HORSE

You know the kind of person who brightly says, "Oh yes, speaking of teeth, can you answer the riddle, 'Thirty white horses upon a red hill, now they champ, now they stamp, now they stand still?'"

Such a person is "putting the cart before the horse"; he has the order of things reversed, he has told the answer before giving the riddle.

This common occurrence was equally common in ancient Greece and Rome, and there were sayings then that agree with ours. The Greeks said, "Hysteron proteron," the latter first. Romans said, "Curiosum bovent praepostere," the plow draws the ox in reversed order. And, in fact, it was this latter expression which, by a round about course, was first known in England.

That is, back in 1340, an Englishman, Dan Michel, made a translation of a French essay into the dialect of Kent. Its Kentish title was "Arenbite of Inwyrt," which would be "Remorse of Conscience" in English. In this translation is the line, "Moche uolk of religion zetteth and zoly be-uore the oxen," that is, "Many religious folk set the plow before the oxen." In the course of the next two hundred years, "plow" became "cart," and "oxen" became "horse."

Such an arrangement in actual fact seems preposterous (pri-POSS-ur-us), and that is exactly the word that an ancient Roman would have used, except that he would have spelled it "praeposterus." To him it would have meant "the last first," or what we would call, "backside foremost." Nevertheless many small coal mines are so laid out that a coal cart, when filled, can go on its rails by gravity out to the mouth of the tunnel, the horse or mule in its shafts following after and serving as a brake. Then, turned around and in natural order, the animal draws the cart back to the face of the pit.

One thing to remember when driving a car is that other drivers may be as careless as you are.

The Doctor Says... Several Treatments Help Curb Effects of Hodgkin's Disease

BY EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Hodgkin's disease is a peculiar and fortunately, not too common disorder, but one which is of extraordinary interest to a person who acquires it and to his or her family and friends.

The disease is more common in young people than in older ones and more frequent in men than in women. It has been reported from every part of the world. There is no danger of catching it from a patient.

The first sign is usually (but not always) enlargement of the lymph glands in the neck. The swollen glands are not painful. After a while, perhaps months or years later, glands in other parts of the body may become enlarged.

It does not interfere with general well-being for a long time, but gradually anemia tends to develop. A small amount of fever may be present and the patient slowly becomes thin.

The lymph glands and the spleen which are affected in Hodgkin's disease are part of a chain or group of tissues, called the reticuloendothelial system. The fact that this system is attacked has raised the question of some infection being at fault. So far, however, no germ or virus has ever been proved as the cause.

The patient with Hodgkin's disease usually goes through periods of remarkable improvement. The enlarged lymph glands may disappear almost completely and the general condition may improve for a long time.

X-RAY TREATMENT FAVORED

The favorite form of treatment has been X-rays. This often causes improvement lasting for months at a time. Treatment with drugs has not been particularly successful.

Recently there have been several favorable reports on the treatment of patients with Hodgkin's disease with preparations called "nitrogen mustards." These substances seem to be quite helpful for some patients who have become resistant to X-rays.

Many competent investigators are working hard to solve the problems connected with this disease and consequently other developments in treatment may be expected.

Debate Law To Protect Hawks

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
LANSING—(P)—Sooner or later, Michigan is going to be asked to make up its mind on a law to protect hawks and owls from indiscriminate killing.

These birds of prey are now unprotected, and they can be shot, trapped or even poisoned at any time. The exceptions are ospreys and eagles, which for many years have had the same protection from all shooting as songbirds and such nearly extinct game birds as quail.

There is a growing movement all over the country to extend this protection to all hawks and owls.

Fifty years ago, only five states protected these species. Now 30 of them do so. Some of the 30, however, exempt the bird hawks—Coopers, sharpshinned and goshawks—as well as the great horned owls.

Among the other states which do not protect hawks and owls are Rhode Island, Maine, Maryland, Nevada, New Hampshire, Oklahoma and Montana. Montana does not even protect the eagle.

Not All Villains
The point is, however, that the great majority of states have come to the conclusion that hawks and owls are vital to the natural scheme of things and are therefore entitled to be protected against unlimited killing by humans.

Spearhead in this nationwide drive has been the National Audubon Society. It has been backed strongly by many other conservation organizations as well as professional and amateur biologists.

These people have found that the birds of prey are far from being the unmitigated villains they have come to be regarded as. Studies have shown, they report, that "they are friends of man and play an important role in controlling rodent and insect populations."

More than that, hawks and owls are important, the biologists say, to maintaining the balance of nature. If they are reduced too far, rodent and insect life will increase too much and vegetation, all of it important to man in one way or another, will suffer.

The Audubon Society is pushing a model law such as the one passed last year in Connecticut. That law protects the species but permits farmers to destroy individual hawks caught in the act of stealing poultry.

This provision, the Society says, is designed to protect farmers and at the same time kill off the occasional individual hawks which turn into poultry stealers.

Odorless Disposal Of Garbage Forseen

NEW YORK—(P)—A Danish firm has come up with what it hopes will be an odorless garbage disposal plant, says the American Public Works Association.

They have found a way to turn garbage into a high-grade compost-fertilizer without smell. The mechanical principle is simply to promote and accelerate the natural processes which take place in a gardener's compost heap.

A dozen disposal plants have been constructed in Scandinavian cities in the last decade. The garbage is fed into a rotary silo which begins the process of breaking the material down into small particles. Later the material goes to a grinder where the final mixing process is completed. Farmers use the compost as fertilizer.

Truce Supervision Dickers Deadlocked Over Russian Help

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR
MUNSAN, Korea—(AP)—U. N. truce negotiators today asked the Communists for another accounting of non-Korean civilians believed captured by the Reds.

Negotiations on truce supervision appeared deadlocked on Communist insistence that Soviet

Russell To Run For Presidency

WASHINGTON—(P)—Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia announced today he will seek the Democratic nomination for President.

Russell said in a statement he could "do no less than comply" with the unanimous requests of the Georgia general assembly and the state's Democratic committee that he become a candidate.

As the second Democrat to make a formal entrance in the race, Russell cast himself as a "Jeffersonian Democrat who believes in the greatest practicable degree of local self-government."

Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee is the other announced candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Potato Shortage Is Reported In Canada

OTTAWA—(P)—An unusual potato shortage in Canada has pushed prices three times higher than a year ago, and placed new wealth in the hands of the successful potato grower.

It has reversed a traditional trading pattern. Canada, which usually sells most of her surplus potatoes to the United States, is leaning more and more on American supplies to fill the gap in her needs.

The irony is that in this potato crop year which started last July, the United States had been prepared to allow a bigger quota on shipments of Canadian potatoes to the U. S. market.

Russia be named to a neutral supervisory commission.

Allied staff officers handed Communist delegates a list of 57 names—two more than were on the original U. N. list Dec. 30. The new names are those of the Rev. Father Jean Colin, French Catholic missionary, and Alfred Gerald Matti, a Swiss National.

The Reds disclosed late last month that 48 foreign civilians are interned in North Korea, but 28 weren't on the Allied list. Thus the U. N. still seeks an accounting of 30 civilians who may be held by the Communists.

The staff officers working on prisoner exchange plans wound up 22 days of wrangling Thursday with virtual agreement on all but the key issue—voluntary repatriation.

The prisoner exchange subcommittee will take over this thorny problem again in a meeting scheduled for 11 a. m. Friday (9 p. m. EST Thursday) in Panmunjom. The subdelegates have not met since Feb. 6. Negotiations on truce supervision bogged down completely.

The Reds continued to press for the nomination of Soviet Russia as a member of a neutral supervisory commission, but there was no debate.

New Pact Allows U. S. Troops In Japan Indefinitely

tiator of the agreement, hailed it as "another step toward peace."

The document provides immediate consultation for joint defense of Japan "in the event of hostilities, or imminently threatened hostilities."

Tax Exemptions Retained
The 28-page pact covers administrative details for keeping American garrison forces in Japan when the occupation ends. It provides:

2. Japan will grant the necessary facilities and land for garrison forces.

3. The U. S. retains criminal jurisdiction over everyone brought in under this agreement.

4. The U. S. retains wide tax exemptions.

5. The two governments will cooperate to "ensure the security of the United States armed forces," dependents, civilians and property.

6. Japan will furnish necessary facilities, rights of way, etc.

7. Japan will contribute $155,000,000 yearly for "procurement by the United States of transportation and other requisite services and supplies in Japan."

The agreement covers only American forces.

German Increase Beer Consumption

FRANKFURT, Germany—(P)—Germany again is living up to her reputation as a nation of beer drinkers, latest federal statistics reveal.

Beer consumption per head of the 49 million West Germans rose to 11.6 gallons in 1951 compared with 9.2 gallons in 1950.

The pre-war high was reached in 1929 when 22.5 gallons per person was consumed by the then 65 million inhabitants of Germany.

Allies Splinter Red Rail Lines

By MILO FARNETH

SEOUL, Korea—(P)—Allied fighter-bombers roared through clearing skies today in stepped up attacks on Communist rail lines in North Korea.

By noon they had cut 60 new holes in the Reds' patched up rail system.

Swift F-86 Sabre jet fighters were out MIG hunting but during the morning hours the Communist fighter planes stayed on their own side of the Jalu River boundary with Manchuria.

Night flying B-26 bombers spotted 1,158 Communist trucks along North Korean highways before dawn Thursday. Pilots reported 112 destroyed.

B-29 Superforts bombed North Korean supply lines. One Superfort was attacked by a Communist plane.

British and American carrier planes pounded Communist targets on both coasts of Korea Wednesday. Allied warships dropped high explosives on coastline installations.

The Reds enlivened an otherwise quiet day along the ground front with propaganda leaflets. The leaflets, written in English, played on the desire of the U. N. soldiers' wish to go home. They also charged the U. N. command with stalling the truce talks at Panmunjom.

Lansing Lobbyists Linked With Pinks

DETROIT—(P)—Two men who were active in lobbying at the state capitol in Lansing several years ago were named yesterday as Communists by a witness at the House Un-American Activities hearing here.

The charges were made by Wayne B. Salisbury, a printer for the Jackson Citizen Patriot and for several years a Michigan State police undercover agent in Communist circles.

He named: Lawrence B. Blythe, Marine City, a Detroit social worker from 1935 to 1940 and an appointee to the State Welfare Commission in 1942. He was named by former governor Murray D. Van Wagoner but the Republican Legislature refused to confirm him and former governor Harry F. Kelly withdrew the nomination the following year.

Raymond Foss Baker, Lansing, a former organizer for the CIO United Public Workers who was active in appearing before the State Civil Service Commission in behalf of ousted employees and in seeking pay increases for them.

Former governor Kim Sigler assailed Baker as a Communist in February, 1947, a short time before Baker tried unsuccessfully to get a recall campaign started against Sigler.

Police Round Up 26 For Klan Terrorism

WHITEVILLE, N. C.—(P)—State and county officers rounded up 26 men charged with Klan activity in adjoining Columbus and Robeson counties last night.

Swift moving officers arrested 11 men in the Titusville section, scene of nightriding terrorism in recent months, and 15 men in the nearby Lumberton section.

Those arrested in the Lumberton raid were charged with violation of an 1868 North Carolina statute outlawing membership in secret political organizations.

Bandit Accomplish Gets Stiff Sentence

IPOCH, Malaya—(P)—A 21-year-old Chinese was sentenced recently to 15 years imprisonment on a charge of conspiring with Communist terrorists. He was arrested in connection with the assassination of a British planter in 1948.

The arrest was made when two former bandits, now operating with a police jungle squad, saw him riding a bicycle in a nearby village. They testified at his trial that he was a member of the band which killed the planter.

IT'S A PLEASURE—Steve Lacey forms a self-appointed committee in Seattle, Wash., to welcome all WACs returning from duty in Japan. He gets his personal cheer-up program underway by saluting Cpl. Lynn McDonald, of Minneapolis, who has completed 22 months of duty in Tokyo. Lacey felt that the WACs were being neglected, after seeing the welcoming committees of pretty girls who meet troop ships from the Orient.

President Takes Trip To Key West To Think It Over

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman said today he won't announce whether he will seek reelection until after he returns from a trip to Key West, Fla.

In a news conference exchange with reporters, Truman did not commit himself to an announcement on his return but knocked down speculation that he might make known his plans while at Key West.

The President is leaving on Friday of next week for the Naval submarine station in Florida. He is expected back in time for a speech in Washington to the $100-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner March 28.

Truman turned aside questions from reporters as to whether he might make the dinner an occasion for announcing his political intentions.

Trial Of California Communists Speeded

LOS ANGELES—(P)—Attorneys in the conspiracy trial of 15 California Communists are under court orders to step up the pace of the case.

The trial is scheduled to resume today after a one-day layoff due to the illness of a defense attorney, A. L. Wirin.

U. S. Judge William C. Mathes told the prosecution it should speed up its questioning of ex-Communist John Lautner.

"It is taking too long between questions," said the judge. "It drags terribly."

Both government and defense lawyers were rebuked for their lengthy readings from Communist literature. The court also advised the prosecution to present its case with less "jumping around and confusing dates."

Conservatives Spurn State-Owned Pubs

LONDON—(P)—No, sir! There won't be any state-owned pubs in Britain. Not while Winston Churchill's Conservatives are in office.

Mis Conservatives in commons last night repealed a bill passed by the previous labor government to set up state pubs in new towns planned to ease city congestion. The vote was 306 to 266.

"My constituents dislike the very idea of state beer," cried Conservative Nigel Fisher.

Laborite G. S. Lindgren charged the Conservatives were fronting for brewers who own most of the pubs. The brewery-owned pubs serve only their brand, which, he said, prevents citizens in the new towns "from drinking their own choice of beer."

Fee Of $2 Proposed For Driver Licenses

LANSING—(P)—A bill which would raise the fee for drivers' licenses from $1.25 to $2 was up for debate in the House today.

The measure was reported favorably by the judiciary committee. It would earmark 90 cents of the fee to the issuing agency to pay for the service.

Issuing agencies now get 35 cents of the present fee. There has been complaint that the amount does not cover the expense.

New School Planned
CHARLEVOIX—(P)—The board of education has approved plans for a $225,000 school addition and authorized the architects, Warren S. Holmes Co. of Lansing, to advertise for bids.

Political Dynamite Up Before Congress

By JERRY T. BAULCH

WASHINGTON—(P)—Congress today considers several explosive issues packed with potential political dynamite in this election year.

They include foreign aid, universal military training, offshore oil lands, surplus ship deals, the St. Lawrence Seaway, alleged military waste and possible Communist influence on U. S. foreign policy.

Acheson On Deck
Secretary of State Acheson meets behind closed doors with the House Foreign Affairs Committee to set the stage for a possible battle over foreign aid. He just returned from the Lisbon conference where the 14 North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) nations decided on a formula for western European defense.

Acheson's testimony was expected to lay the groundwork for the administration's proposed $7,900,000,000 mutual security appropriation request. President Truman is expected to submit it about two weeks.

Seaway Vote Urged
That Senate group centered its attention today on the proposal that this country join Canada in constructing the $18 million dollar St. Lawrence Seaway. Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) said he would urge the committee to take an early vote but Chairman Connally (D-Tex.), foe of the project, said he did not know when the committee might act.

The House continued debate on Universal Military Training (UMT). Rep. Shafer (R-Mich.) told a reporter that backers of the measure might accept a cut-off date for the initial program so that it could get started.

Owen Lattimore continues for the third day his 50-page statement before a Senate Internal Security subcommittee. His highly controversial criticism of U. S. Far Eastern policy and his denial that he ever was a Communist has been interrupted constantly by questions and he was not past the half-way mark at the start of today's session.

Lattimore, one-time state department consultant, is a John Hopkins professor. The subcommittee is searching for any Communist influence on U. S. Pacific policy.

Millions Down Drain
Charges of waste by the military were considered by three committees:

1. A House expenditures subcommittee had under consideration its report that as much as 50 million dollars may already have been "poured down the drain" on five North African air bases.

2. A Senate preparedness subcommittee was expected to go over the House report which presented testimony of kickbacks, price-boosting, drinking and loafing by employees and inefficiency in general.

3. Chairman Herbert (D-La.) called Pentagon officials before his House subcommittee for questions about public relations men he says are trying to stifle his group's investigation of military buying.

GRANDMA ARRIVES
DETROIT—(P)—Mrs. Berenice Baldwin, 49-year-old grandmother who spied nine years on the Communist party in Detroit, was brought here to the site of the House Un-American Activities Committee hearing into Communism in Michigan, under a cloak of secrecy last night.

Investigators, after receiving last minute instructions from Washington, picked her up at Willow Run airport.

Mrs. Baldwin, whose testimony as an FBI undercover agent pointed the finger at 26 Detroit Communists, was expected to testify Friday.

Two Children Perish In Grand Rapids Fire

GRAND RAPIDS—(P)—A father's heroic attempt to reach his two young children trapped by flames failed Wednesday.

Donna Lea Campbell, 3, and her brother, Charles, five months, were overcome and died in the fire that swept their second floor apartment.

An oil stove just outside the bedroom was blamed for the fire. The father, Charles Campbell, was on the first floor when the flames were discovered. He ran next door, smashed a second floor window and sought to leap six feet across to his children's window.

But he was too late. A blast of smoke and flame drove him back. When firemen reached the children both were dead and badly burned.

Reese's attorneys had attempted to prove he was innocent by reason of insanity.

Students Scattered

OTSEGO—(P)—Five hundred students resumed classes today in various locations after a two-week holiday resulting from a fire Feb. 15 that destroyed 14 classrooms in the Oakwood building of Otsego school. Four churches, the Masonic Temple and the American Legion hall are serving as temporary class rooms.

Detective Upsets Plot To Smuggle Yaqui Indian Gold

U. S. consul at Puebla, Mex., and reportedly one of Mexico's richest residents.

From here on the story is Borders':

Spaulding told Lord of the gold, figuring it could be purchased for $600,000 and sold for $1,800,000.

The $600,000 was to be raised by jewel and gem robberies. Ironically, the gang realized only $300 from thefts of jewelry valued at $20,000.

With the money a surplus bomber was to be purchased and armed. The gold was to be flown out, probably to Peru, where it would be sold on the international market.

Candidate Would Make Quite A Few Changes

MATTOON, Ill.—(P)—John F. Williams, 63, owner of a mattress factory, believes in getting his political bid in early. He announced he is a candidate for mayor with the primary and election a year or more away.

Williams says he will run on a platform that will include no wheel tax, discontinuance of parking meters, widening streets without floating bonds, and digging more wells so local residents won't have to drink lake water.

He promised to do away with the dog catcher, too, giving him other work.

Wall Street

By RADER WINGET
NEW YORK—(P)—Railroads and steels provided the incentive today for an advance in the stock market.

Bulls were heartened by the upturn in yesterday's market after a two-day decline, and they especially liked the way buying came into the market in the final hour.

Bearishness still is rampant in Wall Street, but the bulls were given a glimmer of hope by the performances of yesterday and today.

Steels and rails are always favorite leaders, and their assumption of initiative was welcomed by the bulls, although there still was not an emphatic display of strength.

Warner Bros., ex-dividend, was off a fraction just below 15. Directors appropriated $10,000,000 to purchase for cancellation and retirement outstanding common stock by inviting sealed tenders at prices not exceeding $15 a share.

Corporate bonds were steady.

Gold Smugglers May Squeak At Customs

NEW DELHI—(AP)—If you hear a sharp whistle or a loud squeak while passing through Indian customs barriers some day, don't be alarmed—unless you are a gold smuggler.

The Government's national physical laboratory, called in to help curb the illegal flow of gold into and out of India, came up with these suggestions.

1. A table which would whistle if baggage containing gold or other high conductivity metal is passed over it.

2. A comfortable chair in which visitors could be seated while filling out their entrance or exit forms. This chair would have a built-in squeak which sounds if its occupant is carrying a concealed shipment of gold.

Neither gold detector, officials said, has yet been perfected to the stage where it won't whistle or squeak at the gold fillings in a visitor's teeth.

Communist Official 'Errs' In Judgment

HONG KONG—(AP)—This is a boiled-down history of a Chinese Communist who "deviated and deteriorated."

Yeh Chin Ming became a Communist in 1928 and for 21 years accepted Spartan self-denial. After the Reds captured Shanghai in 1949, Yeh was made the director of public utility of the Shanghai Municipal People's government.

Fifteen months later Yeh had a 20-room house with garden and swimming pool and two cars at all times. He sent his four sons away to school.

Recently the Red newspaper, Liberation Daily, reported that Yeh was denounced for charging an $8,400 rent bill for the house to the government by listing it as a dormitory and for driving both cars to Hangchow and using up 65 gallons of gasoline instead of going by train.

He has been called on to "review and rectify himself."

Concrete Doughnuts Build Up Shoreline

COLUMBUS, O. — (AP) — A Painesville, O., engineer is using concrete "doughnuts" to stop erosion on Lake Erie's shore. He says they really work.

Alton E. Tear, the engineer, uses the "doughnuts" to build up sandy beaches. They not only keep waves from eating into lake frontages, but also build up a new strip of beach up to 70 feet wide, he says. He's applied to patent them.

F. O. Kugel, chief of the Ohio department of natural resources' beach erosion division, says of the method: "It sounds interesting. We'll check them as soon as the shore ice goes out to where we can see what has been accomplished."

Tear's "doughnuts" weigh 2,700 pounds each. They're two feet high and six feet in diameter. They are set flat, with tops either slightly above or even with the water. A buoying device floats them into position.

Two years ago, trustees of Perry Township Park in Lake County, Ohio, set 27 "doughnuts" in the water. Now they have a new beach 250 feet long and from 40 to 70 feet wide.

Last October Tear placed seven "doughnuts" about one mile east of Painesville Township Park. They built a beach that varies in width from 20 to 30 feet.

The state of Ohio owns about eight per cent of the 184 miles of land being eaten away by Lake Erie. Kugel said the erosion problem is one that has been unsolved since glaciers fogged the Great Lakes.

Tear is arranging contracts with lakefront property owners. He claims the "doughnuts" cost considerably less than other types of erosion control construction.

Given enough "doughnuts," Tear says, "It would be possible to

Honest Woman Turns In Lost Money Bag

RICHLAND, Wash. — (AP) — If Diogenes is looking for an honest woman, let him cast his lamp on Mrs. F. O. Perkins.

She was walking in front of a theater when she saw a fairly well-upholstered money bag. She opened it. It had $69.55 in currency and change. She called police.

A vending machine company operator later claimed it—and said the contents were intact, right down to the last cent.

Dialogue Mass At St. Joseph's During Lent

Introduction of the Dialogue Mass will be a new and important feature of the Lenten season at St. Joseph Church, it was announced today by Father Stephen Schneider, O.F.M., pastor. It will be held twice weekly, at 8 Friday mornings and at 9 a. m. Sundays.

In the Dialogue Mass the congregation recites aloud in Latin many prayers of the mass with the priest and also makes the responses to other prayers. Ordinarily this is done only by the acolytes and by the choir. The dialogue method is intended to promote increased participation in the mass and recognition that the priest at the altar is offering the sacrifice of mass in the name of the whole church. Training in the recitation of the Latin prayers has been given to the pupils of St. Joseph School by the Sisters of Notre Dame, so that the school is ready to participate fully.

For participation a missal is necessary. The missal is a mass-book, containing the Latin prayers of mass on one side of the page, with the English translation on the opposite side. Used as standard at St. Joseph Church is the edition by Father Stedman, which can be obtained in inexpensive form at local Catholic religious goods stores.

The Dialogue Mass is one product of the liturgical movement in the Catholic Church during the present century. Its use has been growing of recent years. It is introduced at St. Joseph's with the approval of the Bishop, Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, and attendance is open to any interested non-Catholics, Father Stephen said. The first Dialogue Mass will be Friday morning, Feb. 29, at 8.

Paris Hairdos For 1952 Are Short-Short Story

"OPTIMISTIC" look is what hair - stylist Aubrey says he achieves with his "Spindle" line.

"ARROW" line by Guillaume sweeps hair to top of head, untillizes bias "feather edge" cut.

"ROUND" line by Guillaume gives fullness on each side of the face with feathery curls.

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS—(NEA)—Time was when a woman's "crowning glory" meant long, thick tresses which never were touched by the hairdresser's scissors—except of course when she renounced the world to enter a convent.

Today a Paris coiffeur can scarcely resist the impulse to shear off these locks. The master hairdressers who dictate feminine hair styles seem to think no woman can claim to be chic unless her head is made to look as small as possible.

But while short hair still remains the only solution for busy and practical-minded women, it is amusing to note that the experts who make the headlines go to great lengths to launch styles which give the impression of long hair.

Guillaume, who counts crowned and uncrowned heads among his fashionable clientele, has two new lines for 1952—the "Round" and the "Arrow" lines.

The first gives width at each side of the face. The second sweeps the hair to the top of the head. Both are made possible by subtle methods of cut.

There is also the "Pagoda," which cuts the hair in terraces and thins the ends to form "comma" curls.

Incidentally, tight or flat curls are outmoded. The latest mood is for curls as soft and feathery as a baby's. The "Ogival" cut, which gives a rounded form to the head, is achieved by cutting away inside the hair, leaving the outside layer intact.

Guillaume is also an exponent of the "Feather-edge" cut which is done on the bias. In any case hair is seldom worn longer than six or seven inches after Guillaume gets through, and usually between two or three inches for the short-short hair-dos.

Fernand Aubry launches the "Feather," "Crest" and "Flat" hair cuts. All three feature almost straight hair which is given the upswep movement, sometimes brushed into a smooth crest-like roll at the back of the head.

A master in the art of make-up also, coiffeur Aubry favors the upward movement which molds the face in triangular effect.

Eyebrows are antennae-shaped and much thicker than before, rouge is applied to cheeks and lips to follow the general trend, while all features are clearly delineated, no longer blurred or melting one into the other.

It gives an "optimistic, happy look," he says.

Ruark Moans Loss Of Lion

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK — I have been acquiring thumb blisters in the rapid rattle of several volumes of divorce law, but so far have been unable to find any records of gentlemen being awarded divorces (with punitive damages) for the embezzlement of a dead lion by a wife. It may be that I am in process of making legal history, and future students of the law will be forced to cite Ruark on lions before they achieve the sheepskin.

The facts are, Yerronner, that I once acquired, at great risk to life, limb, and solvency, the corpses of two lions. These lions were shot legally, in Tanganyika, under a full license, for which I have the receipt. They were shot by me in the presence of witnesses. By all precepts of jurisprudence, these lions, hereinafter referred to as felis Leo, are the legal property of the plaintiff, which is me, or I.

Great Mental Anguish

On returning home from Africa to New York, plaintiff sustained great mental anguish and a severe shock to the nervous system when a saloonkeeper, hereinafter to be referred to as the accomplice, approached my table and said, "Thank you for the very nice lion."

"What lion?" I replied, digging into my yogurt.

"The lion your wife just gave me," the accomplice said, turning on his heel in order to pod the check with a few spurious items unordered by the plaintiff. I have the check here, Yerronner — "one hamburger, raw, $12; one glass milk, $6.50, storage space for one lion (felis Leo) $250.00 per annum. Insecticide to keep moths out of lion, $5."

Having approached the bride of my bosom (and she ain't as young as she used to be, either) with an accusation of unwarranted disposal of personal property, to wit, one felis Leo, full forequarter mount with his feet on a papier-mache rock, I received the following answer.

"Ha," she said, and I quote. "Ha, ha. If you think a girl is going to live in a New York apartment with two lions, you are out of your mind, Buster." Buster, Yerronner, is a snide way of referring to the plaintiff when the defendant wishes to place the plaintiff on the defensive.

Beautiful(?) Lion

If the court please, it may be specifically noted that the lion illegally bestowed upon the fence, or accomplice, was in the plaintiff's judgment the best lion, being usually large in size and lush of mane. This lion's neck hair was roughly as red as Dinah Shore's, making it exceptionally valuable to the plaintiff, who has been secretly in love with Dinah Shore for years, but who has manfully suppressed his feelings out of deference to the feelings of the plaintiff's wife and to Mr. George Montgomery, an unusually large specimen of genus homo, who is married to Miss Shore. It is to be noted further that no objections were raised by the defendant against my possession of lion No. 2, who looked more like Russell Nype than he looked like a lion.

May the court consider also that the janitor of our building has met me recently in the servants' hall with the following statement: "Thank you for the pretty big

We're 93 Candles on Our Cake!
Your A&P is 93 years young this week. For it was about this time in 1859 that our founder, George Huntington Hartford, proudly opened the doors of his modest little store on Vesey Street in downtown New York, the forerunner of today's A&P.
Even with his vision, we suppose he'd be surprised to see how his little business has grown.
We think he'd be proud, though, to know that the basic idea that guided him then, "to bring more good food to more people for less money," has been the reason for our growth.
We pledge to maintain the principle as long as there's an A&P!

1952 Corn, Soybean Crops Are On Support List, Chairman Says

The 1952 corn crop will be price supported at not less than a national average of $1.60 a bushel and soybeans at $2.56 a bushel, it is announced by Leonard T. England, of Germfask, chairman of the Schoolcraft County PMA.

Dollars and cents supports are being announced at this time—in advance of spring planting—in accordance with forward price provisions of the Agriculture Act of 1949, England said.

Price support on both crops will be accompanied by Community Credit Corporation loans and purchase agreements, as heretofore, the chairman stated.

Pasture Improvement Is Aid For Dairying

By CLAYTON D. REID
County Agricultural Agent

"Feed your pastures if you want the pastures to feed your cows," said S. T. Hartwig, agricultural economics specialist of Michigan State College, Monday night at Cooks. He explained that dairy herds earn their highest profits while on excellent pasture. Renovated pastures boost milk returns about one-third higher than permanent pastures. Needed lime and fertilizer applied to pasture give over half the increased yield, while new plants and working of the soil also improve forage considerably.

Farmers in Schoolcraft County know that they get good dollar returns by using fertilizer on potato and small grain crops. Progressive dairymen like Isaac Pawley, Jim Hoholik and Otto Winkel in Schoolcraft County have proven to themselves that dollars spent for fertilizer on forage brings back good dollar returns.

Hartwig mentioned studies showing that improved pastures help the dry cow to attain higher milk production and also help yearling heifers to attain larger body size, which enables them to produce more milk.

Steps Listed
The steps to get new pasture from old permanent pasture briefly are: testing of soil, applying lime and fertilizer as needed, disking and harrowing the old sod and then planting the right seed mixture in a firm seed bed. Fencing in the renovated pasture helps to get new seedlings started.

In an analysis of some feeding trials carried out at Chatham, C. J. (Jack) Little, M. S. C. Livestock Specialist, pointed out that there was very little if any difference in the feeding value of hay when put up as barn dried hay or hay crop silage. Both methods of putting up hay makes it possible to store hay without much loss of leaves, and with less danger of damage from rains than when hay is cured in the field.

Mr. Little pointed out that during any 10 day period you want to pick, from June 15 to July 30, there will be rain on from 35 to 48 per cent of the days. For example, during the past 25 years there has been rainfall on 48 per cent of the day between June 20 and June 30. This is the period when hay is at its best quality. But with rain every other day it is practically impossible to make field cured hay. Hay can be put into a silo when it is only slightly wilted (70 per cent moisture) or onto a mow drier when it still contains 35 to 40 per cent moisture. This enables farmers to cut hay earlier when feeding value is higher, save the leaves that are lost when hay is handled after it becomes dry, and possibly get a second cutting of hay or at least more pasture from the field.

Officers Elected
These advantages justify the cost of a silo or barn drier and the machinery required to handle green hay, if a farmer has amended to large herd of dairy cows. Mr. Little says, "you have to decide if your cows can afford the set up."

Following the Dairy Management meeting, Monday night, Feb. 25, a short Artificial Breeders Association meeting was held. Bert Ferry, of Garden, Ray Lausten, of Cooks, and Leland Pawley, of Gulliver, were elected for three year terms as directors of the association.

Jim Hoholik was elected president of the association, Bert Ferry vice president and Ray Lausten secretary-treasurer. Jim Hoholik also was elected to represent the Schoolcraft association at the annual meeting of the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative in East Lansing. It was decided that the next meeting of the board of directors would be held on March 27 at the home of Clayton Reid.

Deadline For Filing POW Claims March 31

The terminal deadline for filing prisoner of war claims is extended to March 31, 1952, under Public Act 16 of 1951, it is reported by Everett N. Anderson, service officer of VFW Post No. 4420.

The War Claims act provides for World War II prisoners of war in both European and Pacific areas, certain civilian internees in the Pacific area only, and survivors.

"Should any person know of an individual to whom these benefits might be available, we urge such individual to do all he can to have this veteran, members of his family or civilian internee contact the service office of post 4420 or the veterans counselor, Donald Messier, at the earliest opportunity," Anderson said.

Since we last checked the St. Joe Trojan cagers have added two points to their game average and are now hitting the hoop at a 70-point per out pace. In their last three games Coach Tom St. Germain's cagers have scored 231 points, an average of 77 per game. And they needed most of those points as opponents scored 194 for an average of 65. Their 70 point average is still the highest in the Peninsula, as far as we can figure out.

One of the outstanding attractions in basketball is booked for an appearance in the Upper Peninsula late in March. The original Harlem Globe Trotters, world-famous Negro quint, will play in Munising Sunday night, March 23. Haven't heard if Escanaba is seeking the team for a show here, but it's possible.

"This move was taken solely with the best interests of the future of the Packers in mind. We are not moving the Packers to Milwaukee." Those words accompanied the recent Green Bay Packer announcement that three Packer home games would be played in State Fair Park, Milwaukee, next fall. "The Packers can survive only as a Green Bay team, but we are asking all of Wisconsin and particularly Milwaukee to help us support the Packers so that Green Bay will always be in the National Football League," added Packer Board Chairman Lee H. Johanness.

A couple of "firsts" were recorded on the Upper Peninsula basketball scene recently. For Newberry it was the first win of the season when the Indians downed Sault Ste. Marie's Blue Devils by a 43-31 score. And for Niagara, Wis., it was the first win in more than 25 years over an Iron Mountain quint when the Badgers edged the Mountaineers on their home court, 63-62.

Two Upper Peninsula high school cage quints are seeking to wrap up undefeated seasons with final games tonight. Coach Harold "Babe" Anderson's Nahma Arrows entertain the Rapid River Rockets in one of the crucial contests. Coach Dominic Ghiardi's Gwinnett Model Towners invade Marquette Pierce in the other. Last year Ishpeming, Alpha and Brimley finished with perfect records.

Hawks Top Radars 6-2; Sentinels Here Friday

Defensemen Get In Scoring Act

Escanaba's free-wheeling Hawks pushed the puck all over the fairgrounds indoor rink last night and it wound up in the Calumet goal six times to set up a 6-2 victory over the invading Radar sextet.

The victory moved Escanaba up to third place in the Northern Michigan Hockey League standings, leaving the Marquette Sentinels isolated in the basement. Marquette will have an opportunity to climb back up on a par with the Hawks when the two teams tangle here tomorrow night.

It was a team victory for the Hawks as the two sextets slugged it out on slushy ice that made the going rough from the opening bell. The sextets exchanged goals in the first period with Calumet scoring first.

Tied 2-2
The Hawks went ahead 2-1 early in the second but Calumet bounced back to tie it 2-2 minutes later. A mid-period goal and a late sleeper gave the Hawks the edge they needed before the second stanza was over. To prove it was no accident, the Hawks worked two more scoring plays in the third period for a convincing margin of victory.

Escanaba's second and third lines shared scoring honors with the defensemen last night. Guy Poca, Les Young and John Cortopassi gave the Hawks secondary scoring while Lolly Rose and Jerry Tagliabracchi contributed from the defense. Wingman Joe Ricci furnished the final Hawk goal in the last period.

Back in the nets after a rest at Iron Mountain Veterans hospital, durable Ben Artwich was near-unbeatable in the Hawk lace. Big Ben made 32 saves in the game and many of them were of the spectacular kind. The Stambaugh net-minder left the safety of his den on several occasions and went out to steal the puck from charging wings. At one time he was 10 feet out on the ice—and he came up with the puck to halt a scoring threat.

Minor Penalties
Considering the condition of the ice the game was clean and fast. Nine penalties were called, four on Escanaba, but all were minor infractions.

Mort Winimaki and Clayton Maanin scored the two Calumet goals. Winimaki broke the ice at five minutes in the first period on an unexpected shot from deep left wing. The puck dribbled in off Artwich's skate to turn on the red light.

Just short of the 10 minute mark little Guy Poca picked the puck out of the air from John Cortopassi's deflected shot, set it down and rammed it past Frank Sollich in the Radar net.

Lolly Rose became a scorer for the first time in many moons at 55 seconds in the second period. Lolly lofted one home from the blue line to catch Sollich napping. Maanin's five-foot shot tied it up at the 2 minute mark.

Emeralds Tie For Second In Great Lakes Standings

Negaunee wrested the Great Lakes Conference basketball championship last week by beating Munising 80-38 in the final game last week.

Kessler's Leaves For Cage Tourney

Kessler's Bar cage quint of Escanaba leaves tonight for Green Bay to take part in the annual Radio Station WBAY basketball tournament.

Kessler's draws the Fond du Lac Electric quint in tonight's opening round game. The opening tipoff is slated for 10 p. m. (EST).

A win tonight will move the Escanaba quint into the semifinals Saturday afternoon at 4 against the winner of the Hermansville-Wausau, Wis., game.

Vonnie Colby Wins Golf Tourney Medal

ORMOND BEACH, Fla.—(P)—A Michigan lass emerged from a sudden death playoff to win the medal in the 23rd annual Woman's South Atlantic Golf tournament.

Vonnie Colby of Sault Ste. Marie, won the medal yesterday on the first hole after being tied with three others at the end of the qualifying round at 76.

Match play will begin today, with the 16 first round winners comprising the championship flight Friday.

The girls will play 36-holes in the final round Sunday. evening put the Hawks ahead five minutes later. Neil Sinclair took the puck around behind Sollich and feathered a soft pass to Young who tenderly poked it in beside the scrambling Sollich. From there on out the Hawks were in full control.

Tag's goal came out of a skirmish a few yards off the face of the Calumet net. Cortopassi beat Sollich on a rebound from Poca. The final Hawk goal came when Ted Olson passed out to George Petaja who sent a high hard one at Sollich. Ricci relayed it home with a deft flick of his stick.

Trojans At Negaunee's Big Gym Friday; Home Saturday

The St. Joe Trojans will get a close look at Negaunee's new Memorial gymnasium tomorrow night when they take on a Negaunee St. Paul quint on the spacious court.

Coach Tom St. Germain's high-scoring Trojans are nearing the end of the regular season trail.

Tourney Field Looks Strong

HERMANVILLE — Strongest field in the tournament history is expected for the 14th annual Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin Amateur Gold Medal basketball tourney to be held at the Community Club gym on March 24-30.

One of the biggest independent cage attractions in this area, the tournament is expected to draw teams from all parts of the Peninsula. Two entries from the Soo and Ironwood are anticipated this season. Over fifty entry blanks have been mailed and teams not contacted may obtain blanks from tournament manager Glenn Fleetwood of Hermansville.

Entry deadline is March 15. From Escanaba, the Harnischfeger and Kessler's Bar are expected to enter.

After Friday night's trip to Negaunee the Trojans return home to face Rock in the season wind-up at Bonifas gym Saturday night.

A shift in the Trojan starting lineup was announced this morning by Coach St. Germain. Bill Baker, regular forward, has been on the sick list this week and will step down from a starting assignment.

Dick Cass and Jim Gravelle will open at forward posts, Pete Kutches will be in the center slot, John Martinac and Bob Sendenburgh take guard duties.

Reserves Look Good
"However, our reserves have looked very good in practice this week and will no doubt be called on for a lot of service," St. Germain said.

The game at Negaunee will start at 8:30 with a preliminary between Bee teams at 7.

On Saturday night the Trojans will probably stick with the same starters. There will also be a Bee game at 7. Game officials will be Harold Anderson of Nahma and Norman Slough of Rapid River.

The close look at the big, Negaunee gym may come in handy for the Trojans. If they pass the district test at Norway next month they will seek the regional crown at that same Negaunee gym.

Gulliver Takes 46-36 Victory Over Garden

MANISTIQUE — Gulliver broke loose from an 11-11 first quarter knot and fed a 46-36 loss to Garden here last night in a city league cage clash.

Bergman was high for Gulliver with 15 points. Tatrow had 14 for the losers.

Archie Moore Gives Slade Boxing Lesson

ST. LOUIS—(P)—Veteran Archie Moore gave young Jimmy Slade some additional ring experience along with a steady pounding last night to win a unanimous 10-round decision.

Moore, 35-year-old St. Louis Negro, took the light-heavyweight feature bout in stride, working coolly and passing on the tricks of the trade he has followed for 16 years as a professional.

Red Rolfe And Club Both In Good Shape

LAKE LAND, Fla.—(P)—Red Rolfe's Detroit Tigers look like a changed ball club—on paper at least.

And Manager Red Rolfe looks like a changed man—an optimistic fellow in the very best of health.

Red and his wife arrived in Lakeland yesterday after a three-day auto trip from Detroit. He showed no ill effects from the appendicitis operation that held up his arrival here for two weeks.

In fact, he thinks the appendicitis operation has ended his years of suffering from colitis (intestinal inflammation).

"Yes, that's (his appendix) what the doctor told me might have been bothering me all this time," said Rolfe.

"If that's true, I'm going to be a new man. I'm eating like I never used to."

Everything Wide Open

And Rolfe—pessimistic last season—began to talk hopefully about his Tigers, who report in full strength Saturday.

Cooks Defeats Eben In Finale

COOKS — Coach Bob Thibault's youthful Cooks high school quint closed out the 1951-52 regular season slate here last night by beating Eben 57-52.

Cooks, with three sophomores and two juniors in the starting lineup, posted a record of seven wins in 18 starts this season. The youngsters won four of their last five outings and Coach Thibault was pleased with the progress this season.

Last night Douglas Murray fed 19 points through the net to lead Cooks. Sturvist had 18 for the losers who trailed throughout the game. Eben's last quarter rally of 18 points fell short.

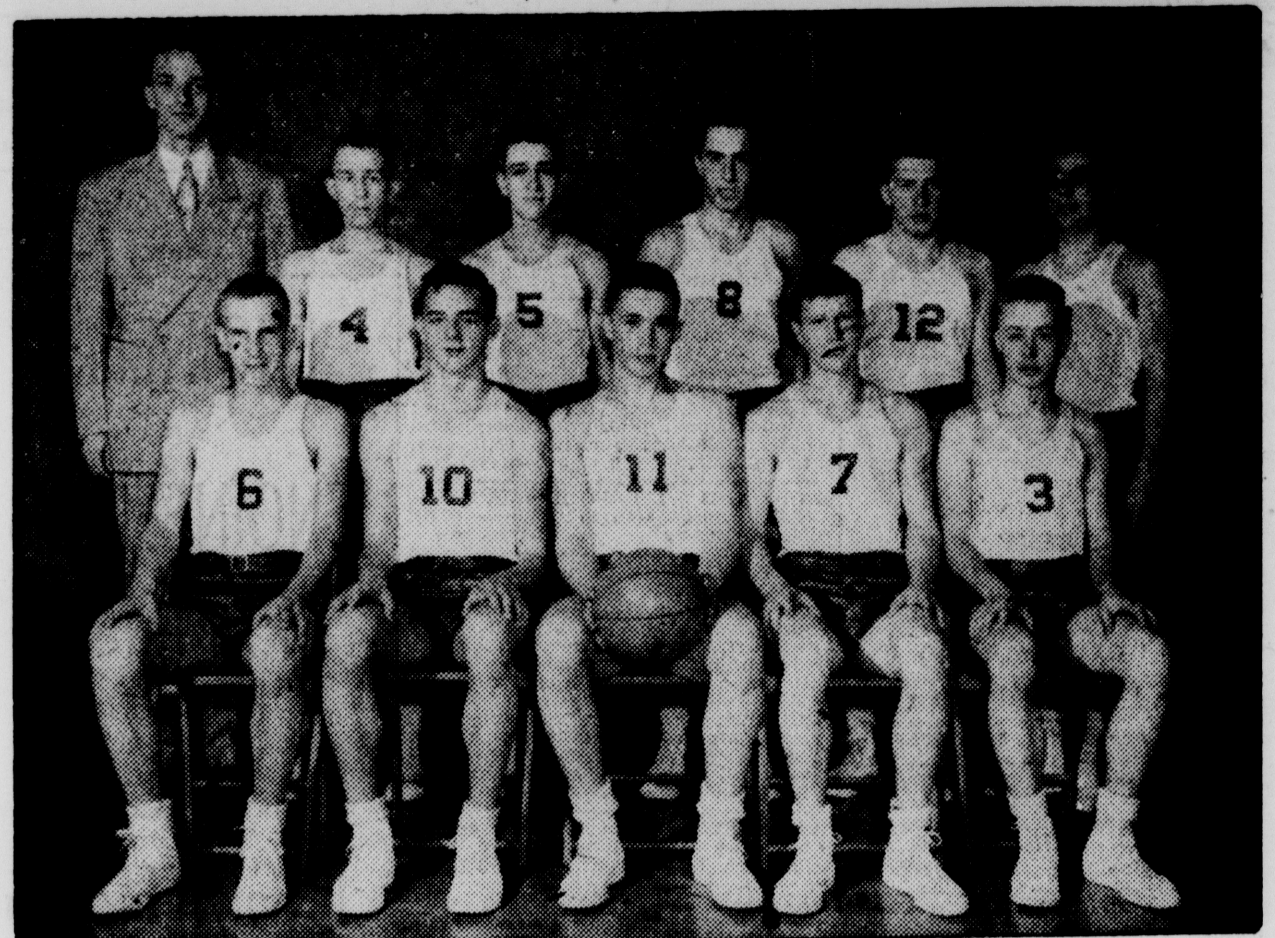

The Cooks Bee team topped Eben reserves 45-32 in the preliminary.

Marquette will have its stars, Cud VanOverloop, Johnny Vasseau, Roy and Gordon Olson, Goalie Jim DeMarinis, Gale Lawrence, Richie Marlowe, and other standouts on the firing line in the effort to steal third place from Escanaba. Jim Eady will be here if he is not called on to work.

Three Detroit Glovers Stick

CHICAGO—(P)—Three young Detroiters are set for semi-final action in the Golden Gloves competition here March 7.

But clouting Corporal Dick Jones, the Fort Custer entry who slugged decisive knockout in his light-heavyweight preliminary bouts, was sidelined. He lost by decision to hard-hitting Jesse Barker of the San Diego Naval Base in a third-round contest last night.

Heavyweight hopeful Herb Ellison won by technical knockout in the first round of his quarter-final test.

The powerful Detroiters will be joined in the semis by fellow-townsmen Richard Cassidy, 118 pounds, who won a decision over game Gene Tucker of Grand Rapids, and Joe Willie De Myers, 112 pounds, who bested Terry Taggard of Sioux City, Ia.

In the 160-pound class, Charles

Coleman of Detroit was stopped in the first round of his third-round battle by Sonny Ingram of Memphis, Tenn.

Another Grand Rapids boy, 147-pound Johnny Gillespie, was decided by Morris Moss of Dayton, O.

Jones had easy going in his first two bouts, but he found Barker considerably tougher. For the first and second rounds, the two sluggers just sparred. Then in the third round, Jones opened with a furious attack. Barker came back with an even harder flurry of fists, and managed to get a slight edge in points.

Kingsford Team Faces Al's Quint Tonight

Al's Tavern furnishes the independent basketball menu this evening at the Escanaba Junior High School gym, entertaining the Kingsford Drugs, one of Dickinson county's busiest quints.

Al's was eliminated from the New Holstein Invitational cage tourney early this week when the Escanaba boys suffered a chilly night on the floor, losing to LaValley's Bar of Peshtigo 60-43.

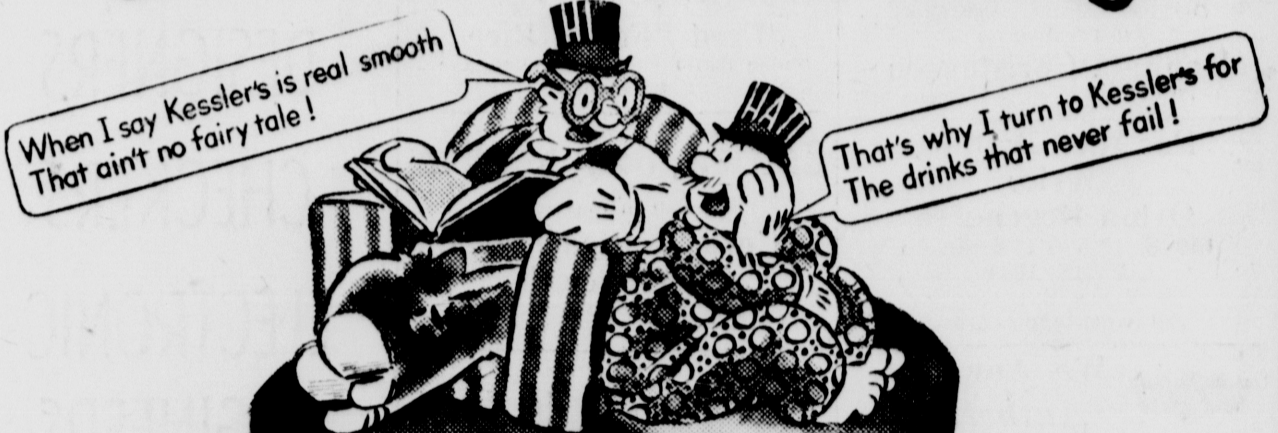

The tourney loss snapped a long victory string for Al's in independent play. The team, composed of young former high school athletes, started slow this season but has developed into one of the better quints in the area.

Coach Mac McComber will send his regular lineup against the Drugs tonight in the 8:15 clash. Available for action will be Jack Courneene, Don Martineau, Tippy Legault, Robert James, Bob McCarthy, Harold VanEffen, Ray Oseen, Bill Courneene, Don Paulin and Wayne Boucher.

This will be the first appearance of the Kingsford Drugs in Escanaba this season.

Braves Seek Third Win In Esky Finale Friday

GLADSTONE — The Gladstone Braves wind up their regular season's play on the local court Friday evening when they entertain Escanaba in the second of a home and home series and a victory over their arch rivals would do something to soothe the feelings of the Gladstone quint which to date has only two wins to its credit during the season.

While the Eskymos have had an off and on season, on the basis of records they are the favorites, but results of the Manistique-Escanaba and Manistique-Gladstone games the past two weekends indicate that it may be pretty much of a toss-up.

Good In Practice

Coach Eldon Keil reports his charges look good in practice and that if they ever come through in a game like they do during the practice sessions that some opponents is in for a busy evening.

But this has been the case most of the season—they've looked very impressive in the after-school workouts but fail to shoot with any degree of accuracy when under game pressure.

The local mentor plans to start lanky Jerry Norick at center, Roger Beauchamp and Lowell LaPlant at forwards and Capt. Tom Moreau and Martin Becker at guards.

Allan Ronberg, Norway and Joseph Stockero, Crystal Falls, will officiate.

Hot Shots In Big 10

CHICAGO —(AP)— Accurate shooting is skyrocketing Big Ten team scoring to what will probably be an offensive record.

Fourth place Indiana is well in front with an average of 75.8 points a game, according to official conference statistics released today.

The team scoring record was set last year by Illinois, currently leading the Big Ten campaign. Last season the Illini averaged 70.6 points a game and they're hitting exactly the same this year.

Second place Iowa is slightly ahead of the Illini, with a 71.9 points-per-game stride.

Accurate shooting is evident in the records of nearly all conference teams. Eight are doing better than 300 from the floor, headed by Indiana's 349. Iowa is second with an average of 343. Illinois follows with 340.

Minnesota, in third place in the race, has the best defensive mark. The Gophers allowed opponents an average 55.7 points a game.

Ollie Sax, Jr., Penn State's sensational sophomore quarter-miler, is the son of a former baseball major leaguer. Ollie, Sr., played briefly with the St. Louis Browns as an infielder in 1928.

Six Seniors Play Last Game On Emerald '5'

MANISTIQUE — Six seniors will conclude their regular high school basketball career in the game with Stephenson here tomorrow night.

In scheduled court action for the last time will be Dick Lake, George Hough, Don St. John, Francis Ekdahl, George Bouscher and James Ketcik.

In preparation for the season's finale, Coach Robert Hussey has again been stressing offensive tactics in practice this week.

Eye Touchdown Leap At Pine Mountain

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich.—That elusive and exclusive ski-jumping "touchdown"—the first 300-foot leap in the history of Pine Mountain—may become a reality here on Saturday and Sunday, March 8 and 9.

That's when about 90 of the best ski-jumping daredevils in the nation roar down the chute of the world's highest artificial ski scaffold.

Since 1949, when 10,000 yards of dirt were excavated from the lower hill to increase the landing capacity, the men on wooden wings have gradually been closing in on the 100-yard jump.

297 Feet

Before the excavation, the late Torger Tokle held the record with 289 feet. In 1949, Joe Perrault, of Ishpeming, scored 293 feet and in the same year flew 297 feet.

In 1950, Billy Olson, of Eau Claire, Wisconsin, tied Perrault's mark. Last year, stied, not distance, was stressed in tryouts for the 1952 Olympic team. But, on March 8 and 9, the boys will be reaching out again.

Two Bouts Added To Fight Program

MANISTIQUE—Two attractive bouts featuring Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves champions have been added to the inter-city boxing match to be held here Saturday night.

Manistique officials announced today that Bob Minor, Manistique open division featherweight champion at Escanaba last month, has been paired with Carl Vertz, U. P. 126-pound novice champion from Sault Ste. Marie.

Minor was unopposed in the U. P. tournament and lost a very close decision to Carroll Fink, of Milwaukee, in the Milwaukee Journal Golden Gloves tournament finals two weeks ago.

Novice Champ

Vertz fought his way through the U. P. tournament and dropped a decision in the Milwaukee novice division semi-finals.

In the second bout added to the program Larry Simpkins, popular Milwaukee welterweight champion in the Escanaba tournament, will face Gerald Dufour of Manistique. Simpkins won a host of fans in Escanaba with his sharp punching and lost an unpopular decision in the Milwaukee semis.

Seven Titlists

The program is studded with fistic stars, including seven Upper Peninsula and Milwaukee champions. In addition to Minor, Vertz and Simpkins the U. P. Golden Gloves champions on the card are Francis Selling, Harvard Lancour, Orville Belanger and Jim McDonald. The latter is a Menominee fighter.

Except for the two new bouts added today, the program will consist of an inter-city match between the Manistique and Menominee - Marinette teams. Ed Toyra is coach of the Manistique stable and the Menominee club is trained by Leo Legacy.

The bouts will begin at 8:15 at the new gymnasium in the Manistique High school.

Training Camp Briefs

YOGI SPEAKS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP)—Yogi Berra, the most valuable player in the American League last year, came up with a prediction today—his New York Yankees are going to win the pennant again this year even without Joe DiMaggio.

"We needed Joe last season," said the Yanks' catcher. "He was an inspiration and still a great player. But I believe we're going to make it without him now. Why? Because we're going to have a pitching staff that isn't going to get tired. I figure we'll have seven starters."

Yogi listed Vic Raschi, Allie Reynolds, Ed Lopat, Tom Morgan, Jim McDonald, Johnny Sain and Bob Kuzava, with the notation that the last two probably would be used mostly in relief.

SOGGY DIAMOND

SARASOTA, Fla.—(AP)—Hampered by a soggy diamond all this week, Manager Lou Boudreau today hoped to put his 24 Boston Red Sox pitchers to work. He fears several of them have become slightly rusty.

Boudreau planned to have all of them throwing in batting practice during the remainder of the week. He will delay the intra-squad practice games until Monday, when, he expects, all hands, including Ted Williams, will be available.

Williams notified General Manager Joe Cronin that he would arrive here within a few days. Recalled as a Marine flyer, Williams is expected to go on active duty May 2.

EYES ROOKIES

BRADENTOWN, Fla.—(AP)—Another half-dozen or so rookie pitchers will show their wares today when Manager Tommy Hodges puts his Boston Braves through a six-inning intra-squad practice game.

Holmes saw several impressive youngsters throwing during yesterday's tight practice game action.

MAY SHIFT EDWARDS

MESA, Ariz.—(AP)—If catcher Bruce Edwards' arm doesn't hold up, Chicago Cub Manager Phil Cavarretta may shift the former Brooklyn backstop to first base.

The Cubs got the onetime Brooklyn star in a trade last season. Edwards once had a rifle-like throwing arm but has been having trouble with it for some time. He's been taking various treatments here.

Cavarretta indicated yesterday he will consider putting Edwards, a good batter, on first if (A) Edwards' arm doesn't come around, and (B) young Dee Fondy doesn't make the grade.

YOUNG PROSPECT

EL CENTRO, Calif.—(AP)—A 19-year-old catcher, W. J. Porter, is getting attention from Manager Paul Richards of the Chicago White Sox.

Porter is a $60,000 bonus baby who played last year with the Sox' Waterloo, Ia., farm in the Three I League. He hit over .300 last season.

NEGRO 'ROOKIE'

TUCSON, Ariz.—(AP)—In his search for a good catching reserve strength, Indians Manager Al Lopez is giving a Negro named Quincy Troupe a tryout.

Troupe was a manager himself once, of the Cleveland Buckeyes, and rookie pitcher Sam Jones calls him one of the best catchers from the Negro leagues, possibly as good as Brooklyn's Roy Campanella.

Troupe smilingly gives his age as 29.

TRY COMEBACKS

TAMPA, Fla.—(AP)—A couple of pitchers with comeback ambitions are attracting early attention in the spring training camp of the Cincinnati Reds even though the weather has been so bad that none of the athletes have been able to do much work.

The two hurlers are Flowed Bevens and Frank Hiller. Bevens is the one-time New York Yankee who came within a whisker of pitching a no-hit game in the 1947 World Series. Then he dropped out of baseball because of a sore arm but started back up the hill in the minors and was drafted by the Reds. An injured back put the brakes to what had looked like a promising career for Hiller when he was with the Chicago Cubs.

Buddy Young Grid Punt Return Champ

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Buddy Young, swift-footed halfback of the now defunct New York Yanks, nosed out Jack Christiansen of the Detroit Lions for the punt return championship of the National Football League.

In official statistics announced today, Young was listed at the top of the heap with an average of 19.3 yards for return on 12 tries. Christiansen's second best effort was a 19.1 yard average on 18 tries.

Four of Christiansen's returns resulted in touchdowns while Young went the distance on one.

Button Seeking 5th World Title

PARIS —(AP)—Dick Button — a sure thing if there ever was one in the field of sport — goes after his fifth world figure skating championship today.

There are 13 in the field but barring accident there is no one to seriously challenge the supremacy of the Harvard senior from Englewood, N. J.

Dick has won the title four times running and goes into this competition fresh from the Olympic championships in Oslo where he won his second gold medal. Almost all of his rivals have been in fields he has beaten time and again.

One of the few newcomers is Alain Gilette, 12-year old French prodigy who finished fourth in the European championship and seventh in the Olympics. Alain, however, is a competitor for Dick in only one respect. The little Frenchman will get almost as many cheers from the crowd as the champion.

The pairs championship also comes up for decision tonight with the issue expected to be, as in Oslo, between the German husband and wife combination of Paul and Ria Falk and the brother-sister team of Peter and Karol Kennedy of Seattle.

The Falks, last year's winners, took the Olympic gold medal last week with the Kennedys second.

Hungry Horse Dam Name Had Origin In Two Strayed Horses

HUNGRY HORSE, Mont.—Ever wonder how the Reclamation Bureau's big 564-foot high Hungry Horse Dam now rising in a deep Northwestern Montana canyon got its name?

Back in March, 1901, so the story goes, two horses strayed from a pack string while crossing the Flathead River's South Fork. The horses were found a month later in "belly deep" snow. They starved look brought the comment: "That's an awful hungry horse country."

Then last October two rented horses got lost in an uninhabited region above Hungry Horse Dam. The animal's owner spent a week looking for them in snow two feet deep. The horses were "skin and bone" when found. They were trucked home to their first real meal in 44 days.

It's official now. That's an awful hungry horse country.

If the atmosphere did not rotate with the earth there would be a constant westerly wind of 795 miles an hour at 40 degrees latitude.

Campers Told Not To Molest Animals In National Parks

By W. JOYNS MAC FARLAN
WASHINGTON—The National Park Service is asking tourists and campers to protect themselves and the wild animals in national parks by leaving the animal completely alone.

For the first time, it will be against regulations to feed, touch, tease or molest any deer, moose, buffalo or bison, bighorn or mountain sheep, elk or antelope.

And the long-standing prohibition against having anything to do with bears will continue in effect.

Deer Injures Girl
Last year more than 36½ million persons visited national parks and 40 million are expected this season.

The serious injury of a 10-year-old girl by a deer in the Yosemite National Park last summer probably provided the impetus for keeping animals and visitors apart, park service spokesmen said.

The little girl was in a group watching some mule deer. She walked up to one and rubbed its head. Its antlers were "in the velvet", just starting to grow, and at that time they are very sensitive to pain.

Without warning the deer lashed at the child, cutting her eye with a hoof. She was badly cut but did not lose the sight in the injured eye.

Officials also recalled that about 10 years ago a buck deer tamed by park service employees in Mount Rainer National Park for some unknown reason attacked and seriously injured a child.

Park service records list no deaths from attacks by deer, moose, buffalo, bighorn or elk or antelope but one woman was fatally injured by a bear at Old Faithful in Yellowstone National Park in 1942.

Accidents Result
In 20 years—1931 through 1950—885 persons are listed as injured by bears in Yellowstone. There were 1,761 cases of property damage by bears recorded, and 524 bears were killed because they had become dangerous or were classified as nuisances.

And in recent years in Yellowstone and other parks many traffic accidents have occurred, the park service said, because motorists stop on highways and feed deer in violation of the regulations. Parking cars on the highways, it explained, causes congestion and creates a traffic hazard.

Officials point out that "animals spoiled by people feeding them and becoming unduly familiar with them may appear to have become tame when in reality they are still basically wary, wild animals ready to turn on their benefactors at any moment."

And the feeding of such animals is definitely harmful to them, they add, whether it is done purposely or by disposing of garbage where the animals can get it.
